Chinese Troops Adding to Gains From Japanese

Railway Carrying Nipponese Reinforcements Reported Cut in Counter-attack

New German-trained Units Used By Chiang

HANKOW, China (CP-Havas)—Japanese reverses in Shantung province at the hands of counter-attacking Chinese assumed greater proportions today with reports the Chinese had captured Yihshien and had cut the Tientsin-Pukow railway between Tsinan and Taian.

The latter operation would prevent the dispatch of further Japanese reinforcements to the aid of their harassed troops fighting desperately to hold the ground won in the first drive on Suchow, juncture of the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai railways.

NEW DIVISIONS

SHANGHAI (AP)—Chinese, dispatching fresh, German-trained divisions to the 60-mile front across southern Shantung province, avowed Friday that victory was theirs at battered, shell-torn Taiachwang.

The Chinese hailed troops of General Sun Li-chung's 31st Division as heroes for pushing the Japanese from Taiachwang's northeast gate.

Chinese said the major remaining Japanese force was being attacked by Gen. Sun's two other columns, spread out in a triangle east from Taiachwang.

Japanese, however, said their forces still remained within the city.

FENG WRITES POETRY

Nevertheless, Chinese insisted they had won a smashing victory. Gen. Feng Yu-shiang announced he was writing a ballad recounting the battle and predicting the recovery of China's lost territory by harvest time.

The German-trained division were from China's ever available reservoir of man-power, and the Chinese high command predicted 40 divisions would be in the field by summer.

Japanese, however, also were reinforcing their lines on this central China front.

It became known transports from Tientsin recently carried 2,000 wounded and the ashes of 1,000 dead, an indication of Japanese casualties.

Power Company Manager Dies

Sidney J. Halls of B.C. Electric Dies in Nursing Home Here

Sidney J. Halls, manager of the light and power department of the B.C. Electric Railway Company here for the last 30 years, died this morning.

Mr. Halls had been ill for some months and had been in a nursing home for two weeks. He was 57 years old.

Mr. Halls' wide interests brought him into contact with many in the city. For several years he was president of the Uplands Golf Club. He was a member of the Union Club, the Pacific Club, the Capital City Commercial Club and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Born in England, Mr. Halls

LATE S. J. HALLS

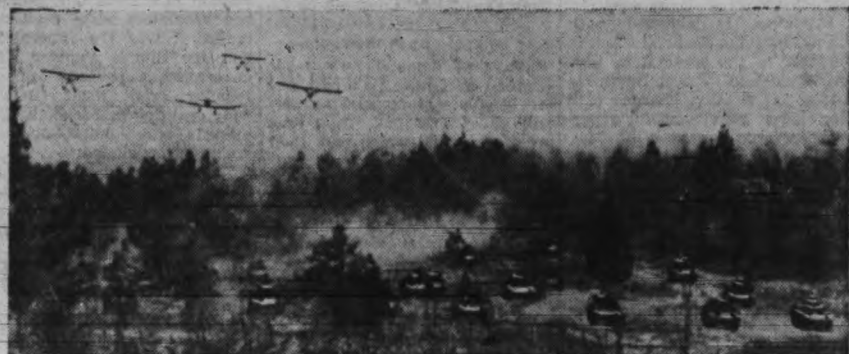

came to British Columbia as a boy. He joined the B.C. Electric in Vancouver before the turn of the century.

From the mainland city he went with the Canadian contingent to the South African war. Some 30 years ago he was transferred to Victoria to take over the management, which he held until his death.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Roland H. Halls, and one daughter, Marian Halls, at the family home at 627 Harbinger Avenue here.

The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements, which will be announced later.

Newest Type of Defence for U.S.

These pictures taken during exercises just held by United States army units at Fort Benning, Ga., indicate the kind of air, tank and infantry forces invaders would face if they should attempt to overrun territory of the republic. The tanks, when photographed, were moving at high speed over part of the 57,000 acres given over to the manoeuvres in the Fort Benning district.

Deaths In Storms In United States Are Twenty-four

Camps Will Not Be Permanent

All Men Out This Week-end; Pearson Rejects Union's Plea

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said today the government has not a single dollar available to continue the winter forestry project camps for single men during the summer.

A request to this effect has been received by the minister from the Relief Project Workers' Union, which plans a meeting here this week-end in support of the proposal.

The minister deprecated the efforts of the union to establish the camps as a permanent job-providing scheme for single men, pointing out this would bar many of the men from getting positions in private industry.

By this week-end all men will be out of the camps except skeleton crews engaged in clearing up, the relief department said.

Thirteen Drowned When Georgia Store Swept Away; Snowdrifts in Texas

CHICAGO (AP)—Thirteen deaths in a Georgia flood raised to 24 the death toll today of storms gripping a broad section of the United States for the third successive day.

At least 11 persons perished in an Alabama tornado.

Elsewhere communities were harassed by sleet and snow, cold rains and rising rivers and the forecast of continued weather disturbances.

More snow and sleet was predicted for parts of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Lower Michigan, Missouri and Kansas; rain for parts of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, with possible gales on southern Lake Michigan.

Heavy rain poured on the south and some eastern states today. Hardest hit were Virginia and Maryland.

Occasional rain fell in New York City and in New Jersey light rain removed a record April snowfall of 5.1 inches. In Indiana the Wabash and White Rivers rose toward flood stages.

DRIFTS IN TEXAS

Six-foot snowdrifts marooned seven Texas schoolchildren and scores of motorists, but all were believed safe in rural homes.

One train was stalled and motorists were stranded by four-foot drifts in western and northern Oklahoma.

Damage wrought by the mid-week snowstorm was estimated at well over a million dollars.

Freezing temperatures caused heavy damage to fruit crops in Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma. Southern Indiana orchardists estimated a 50 per cent loss on their peach and apple crops.

Southwestern Kansas dug out of its worst blizzard in six years. New York City traffic was restored to normal after 23,000 men cleared away a five-inch snowfall. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

TEN ARE FOUND KILLED BY GAS

PAPMA, Texas (AP)—Ten persons were found dead of asphyxiation in an oil field residence a short distance west of Pampa this afternoon. The victims were two men, a woman and seven children. The bodies have not yet been identified.

Pilot LaPointe's Funeral Tomorrow

Acting Officer Pilot Robert Brock LaPointe, Victoria boy who was killed in England Thursday when his plane crashed, will be buried with full military honors at Stanton St. Quintin Cemetery, near Chippenham, Wiltshire. The Royal Air Force funeral service has been set for 2.30 Saturday afternoon, according to arrangements cabled to Mrs. C. M. LaPointe, the mother, by the Commanding Officer at Hullavington.

It is expected it will be a double Royal Air Force funeral with Acting Officer Pilot James R. Vincent of Medicine Hat, who was a companion of the Victoria flier on the fatal flight, being buried simultaneously and alongside his co-pilot.

The two young Canadians sailed together from Montreal for overseas last August.

SEEK BORSTAL PLAN IN CITY

Plans for extending the Borstal training plan recently adopted in Vancouver to Victoria were discussed by Mrs. Mary Nicholson of the John Howard Society with Attorney-General Gordon Wismer this morning.

Support of local business men is sought for the scheme. In Vancouver boys who take training in the Borstal unit are afterwards "adopted" for a time by business men who advise them and assist when possible to put them back into a normal life. It is hoped to work out a similar plan here.

Mrs. Nicholson intends to interview several Victoria business men and arrange a meeting shortly at which the Attorney-General will speak, outlining the proposal and tell of its success in Vancouver.

DESTROYERS ARE BOUND FOR B.C.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Canadian destroyers, Saguenay, St. Laurent, Skeena and Fraser were en route to Esquimalt, B.C., today.

The vessels, returning from a training cruise far south, cleared San Diego harbor yesterday on the last leg of a three-month training cruise.

The ships will visit Vancouver before proceeding to Esquimalt.

MURDER CASE IS REMANDED

Preliminary Hearing of Mrs. Vera Colebourne Adjourned to April 14

Mrs. Vera Colebourne, 32, appeared before Magistrate Henry Hall in the Oak Bay Police Court this afternoon charged with murdering her husband, Sidney William Colebourne.

On the application of C. L. Harrison, municipal prosecutor, the hearing was remanded for the second time, being put over until next Thursday afternoon. R. C. Lowe, defence counsel, agreed to the adjournment.

Escorted by Police Matron Alice Pye and Sgt. H. C. Reston Mrs. Colebourne appeared attired in the blue coat and hat to match which she wore at the formal arraignment and at the inquest into the death of her husband. She was charged last Tuesday morning, three hours before the coroner's jury returned a verdict that her husband died from a bullet wound inflicted by a person or persons, unknown.

Mrs. Colebourne appeared considerably improved physically today.

She did not attend the funeral services for her husband yesterday.

A crowd of spectators filled the Oak Bay council chamber where the court was held, many of the spectators arriving an hour before the hearing to secure seats. Eighty per cent of the spectators were women.

The hearing lasted just over one minute.

B.C. Health Bill Sought in U.S.

The British Columbia health insurance act, passed two years ago, but still inoperative, has been copied word for word by interested parties seeking to have a similar measure adopted by the United States congress, according to information received here.

Copies of a bill introduced in the United States House of Representatives by Representative Treadwell of Massachusetts have reached Victoria. With a few minor changes making it applicable to the United States the bill is identical with the British Columbia statute, experts here said.

Halifax Says Pacts Or War Are Choice

He Urges Restraint Among British Groups Criticizing Foreign Governments

By GEORGE HAMBLETON Canadian Press Staff Writer

BRISTOL, Eng.—"Agreement or war!" In unmistakable words Viscount Halifax, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, today squarely stated the issue in international affairs as he urged the people of the United Kingdom to face facts. He appealed to members of the Labor Party to restrain their "provocative language" against those responsible for the government of other countries.

"They make agreement between our country and the others more difficult," Lord Halifax pleaded, "and to that extent increase the risk of the only other method of solving differences—which is war."

LINKS OF FRIENDSHIP

Great Britain, Lord Halifax continued, would lose no opportunity to establish friendly relations with countries at present inside and outside the League of Nations, whether democracies or dictatorships.

Zinc-lead and Livestock Men Fight New Terms With Canada

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the livestock industry protested today against any reduction in tariffs on meat products in the renewal of the United States reciprocal trade agreement with Canada.

Glen T. Stebbins, of the United States Livestock Association, Kansas City, Mo., said the industry wanted the duty on pork products increased.

He told the committee for reciprocity information "our price structure invites foreign imports." Evan Just, secretary of the Tri-state Zinc and Lead Producers' Association, Picher, Okla., said tariff reductions would involve "jobs of the men back home and actual destruction of mine properties and the survival of my community."

PARIS (AP)—President Albert Lebrun tonight asked Edouard Daladier, Radical Socialist, to form a cabinet to succeed the People's Front government of resigned Premier Leon Blum.

M. Blum and his ministers went to the Elysee Palace with their collective letter of resignation after the Senate had voted down his demand for dictatorial powers over French finance.

Immediately after the Senate, by a vote of 223 to 49, had shown its disdain for his "last call," the Premier dashed out of the Luxembourg Palace, the Senate building, through the ranks of steel-helmeted mobile guards to the Chamber of Deputies.

There he announced his resignation to the Deputies of his own Socialist Party, who had assembled to hear his decision.

He told them he was going to the Elysee Palace to tell President Albert Lebrun he was through.

M. Daladier was Defence Minister in the Blum cabinet.

BITTER FIGHT

M. Blum fought a bitter battle for his finance bill in the Senate, challenging its right to overthrow his government.

"I fear for the peace of the republic if the Senate lets itself be drawn outside the limits it once fixed for itself," he declared.

"In the name of the real interest of the republic I address to the Senate a last call."

Joseph Caillaux, 74-year-old chairman of the finance committee and Blum's arch foe, replied, criticizing "many of the totalitarian aspects of the government's proposed measures."

"We have thrown out a certain number of ministries and the Chamber has applauded," said Senator Caillaux.

CABINET MEETS

Immediately after the vote the Premier summoned the Cabinet to meet in his offices to consider its resignation.

M. Blum's defeat came after a debate in which there were frequent exchanges of threats. The Premier and senators accused each other of failure to uphold republican principles. M. Blum challenged the right of the Senate to cause his government's downfall.

"Let me tell you again," Blum shouted, "you have no right to decide the fate of my government."

Premier Blum's bill, passed Wednesday by the Chamber of Deputies by the narrow vote of 311 to 250, asked power to rule French finance by decree until July 1. His announced program included foreign exchange regulation, revaluation of the Bank of France's gold, a tax on capital and suspension of national debt sinking fund payments for two years.

Government bonds climbed sharply on the Bourse as defeat of the government and its financial projects appeared certain as the day wore on.

NUMEROUS GUARDS

While the Senate debate was in progress more than 1,000 police and mobile guards paced back and forth outside the building. The guard detachments carried carbines and wore steel helmets.

Shortly after 4 p.m. (7 a.m. P.S.T.), Abel Gardey, reporter of the Senate finance committee—which yesterday rejected Blum's finance bill by 25 to 6—took the rostrum to read the committee's report.

"The bill does not correspond in certain of its aspects to the spirit of French democracy," Gardey read. "It underestimates the moral and material forces of the nation. It is not founded on the solidarity of all citizens."

It disturbs the Frenchman, with his innate taste for liberty and initiative."

There was deathly silence in the Senate. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Move Toward Mediterranean at Both Ends of Long Spanish Line

HENDAYE, France (AP)—A second contingent of General Franco's insurgents smashed their way to within sight of Spain's east coast today as widespread combat surged along all the Catalan front. Galicians fought their way to control of lofty Mount Turnell, from where it is less than 18 miles downhill to Vinaroz on the Mediterranean.

This column on the far southern Catalan front threatened the flank of embattled government divisions held at bay for three days by the insurgent force attempting to take Tortosa, 28 miles by road to the north.

Forty miles north of Lerida, General Emilio Northaca's army struck directly into Catalonia and took Tremp, cutting two high tension lines which supplied current to Barcelona's war industries.

FLOOD PREVENTED

Insurgent officers at Irun declared swift capture of the 90-foot high dam at Tremp scotched government plans to send a huge flood of 7,000,000,000 cubic feet of water roaring down the Segre and Ebro River valleys. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Conservatives To Plan Convention

Delegates in Ottawa Tomorrow Will Arrange For Leadership Gathering

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservatives from coast to coast will gather here tomorrow morning to fix a date for the national convention to choose a leader in succession to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

At the Conservative conference held here a month ago, when Mr. Bennett announced his physical condition would force him to resign the leadership at the close of the present session of Parliament, it was decided to hold a national convention in Ottawa. It is believed the date will be late in June.

Mr. Bennett himself arranged the date for tomorrow's convention committee meeting and he will preside at the opening, after which a chairman and secretary will be chosen. Gordon Graydon, M.P. for Peel, Ont., and Georges Heon, M.P. for Argenteuil, Que., were joint secretaries of the national conference, and may be selected for the convention committee.

It is generally believed the post of chairman will go to John R. MacNeil, M.P. for Toronto-Davenport and a veteran of the 1927 convention.

Several committees will have to be appointed, most important of which will be the local organization committee to make the actual arrangements for the convention. It is expected there will be at least 2,500 delegates and the Coliseum at the Exhibition Grounds here will likely be the scene of their deliberations.

LEADERSHIP DISCUSSION

Speculation continues on the person who will be chosen leader to succeed Mr. Bennett, but even those high in the councils of the party express themselves to be completely at a loss as to who will be the candidates.

Those most frequently mentioned are Hon. R. J. Manion, former Minister of Railways and Canals; Hon. J. Earl Lawson, M.P. for South York and Minister of National Revenue at the time of the general election in 1935; and Denton Massey, youngest of the three, M.P. for Toronto-Greenwood.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader in the Senate, former Prime Minister, is frequently mentioned as a likely possibility, but it is believed by many he would refuse the honor. He will be 64 in June.

STORE WASHED AWAY

JASPER, Ga. (AP)—J. H. Dilbeck, Atlanta Journal correspondent, reported today 13 persons drowned in floodwaters which swept away a general store at Whitestone, Ga., Thursday night. Four bodies were recovered.

Dilbeck said the victims all were sleeping at the store when it was washed from its foundations by a rain-swollen creek. He listed them as Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Conner, eight children of the Conners, Carl Lindsey, 22, and two visitors, Thelma and Bonnie Ponder, children of Will Ponder. Rescue workers said there was "not one chance in a thousand" any of the party survived the churning waters of Talona Creek.

Bodies recovered were those of two of the Conner children, Flora Sue and Claud, their father and an unidentified child. No vestige of the combination store and living quarters could be seen in the waters, Dilbeck said. Many men from the neighboring mountains hurried to Whitestone to help. The village is about eight miles northwest of Jasper, in northwest Georgia.

Broker Is Before Vancouver Court

Hearing of J. R. Chalmers Adjourned Till Monday; Floor Trader Heard

VANCOUVER (CP)—Preliminary trial of J. R. Chalmers on a fraud charge was adjourned today till Monday.

At yesterday's closing session Lorne Sutherland, floor trader for the brokerage firm of J. R. Chalmers Limited, testified he had been told to sell 4,000 shares of McDougall-Segur stock September 22 last.

Chalmers is charged with fraud under the Securities Act. A member of the same firm, now in liquidation, John Birch, is facing a similar charge with Chalmers. He elected for separate hearing.

The crown alleged that the transaction was made for the account of R. F. Gilrie, which witnesses swore was a fictitious name for a house account, and left the company short of the stock it should have kept for its clients.

Sutherland, a crown witness, swore he had received instructions over the telephone from J. T. Birch to sell the stock.

The witness asked protection under the Canada Evidence Act, and then testified that the Gilrie account was operated by the firm for "purposes of financing," and that 4,000 shares of McDougall-Segur stock belonged to a client, not the firm.

Birch, called as a crown witness, swore he merely had relayed instructions to Sutherland after having received his orders from Chalmers.

FRANCO'S FORCES IN NEW ADVANCE

Such a flood, they added, would have swept the entire length of the Ebro and Segre valleys, washing away the temporary bridges by which Franco's troops have maintained communications. The water also would have flooded parts of Balaguer, Lerida, Tortosa and many villages, the officers said.

At Zaragoza, insurgent Aragon headquarters announced 289 villages and towns with a normal population of 343,213 had been occupied up to April 6.

to give assurances that we are not absolutely certain our people would be prepared, if called upon, to carry out. These obligations, therefore, we shall fulfil, should need ever arise, to the utmost of our ability.

ARMS PROGRAM

Viscount Halifax proceeded:

"It is, indeed, to place ourselves in a position to discharge them, so as to make the word of this nation more powerfully heard on the side of peace, that Sir Thomas Inskip (Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence) is now asking a more intensive effort from the nation in making its defences strong for any call that may be made upon them.

"To that demand now made upon them, I have no doubt that our people will respond as they will always respond, when they are plainly told which way their duty lies."

Those clearly-defined obligations were, however, only part, though an important part, of Britain's general obligation to smooth, so far as she could, the course of human history, he said. From that high task a great power could never hold aloof. It, indeed, was one of the responsibilities of being a great power.

"If we are to discharge that responsibility aright we shall have to put forward the whole of our energies, not only today or tomorrow, but over a period of time which in the present state of the world cannot be defined or limited," the Foreign Secretary declared.

NO SHORT CUT

It was idle to expect that through all the present whirlpool of human forces there was any short cut to complete order and tranquility.

"I have succeeded to the office of Foreign Secretary at a time when a large part of Europe is fermenting with new ideas and new aspirations, when a single false step by the British Government might have incalculable consequences," Lord Halifax went on.

"At such a time we may look back to the past to find strength in the example of others who had to meet times no less difficult and no less perplexing. And I know that the government today, as in other days, will look for its support where it has always found it—in the clear, undaunted spirit of the British people."

He paid tribute to the League's long record of achievement. But the League's power had been seriously impaired by the withdrawal of Germany, Italy and Japan. Was it good sense to ask a 10-ton lorry to carry a 20-ton load, or "that great little horse Battleship to carry 15 tonnes around the grand national course?"

(Battleship won the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree two weeks ago).

GROUPINGS OPPOSED

"It is no fault of the League, still less of His Majesty's Government, but it is a plain truth that if we were to act as some would suggest and try to organize a new pattern of collective security against Germany by the present League powers, we should be doing the very thing that would be not only in the long view, destructive of the hope of winning Germany and the other powers who left back to European co-operation, possibly in some new form, but also we should be doing something against which we have always worked, namely, the division of Europe into blocs formally ranged against one another, which in our view must inevitably aggravate the risk of ultimate catastrophe."

"We desire to improve our relation wherever we can because we believe that if we can relieve tension anywhere we shall relieve it everywhere, and that the effect of better relations, if we can establish them, at one point will be felt over a much wider field."

Two Election Bills Sent to Committee

OTTAWA (CP)—The two government bills overhauling the election laws of Canada were given second reading in the House of Commons Thursday and sent to a special committee of 30 members for further study.

Second reading was a formal procedure, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, stipulating his followers reserved the right to criticize certain clauses and were not agreeing to all features in granting second reading.

The two bills represent a sweeping revision of election laws. The two main provisions are to make public record of political fund contributions and limit political expenditures at election time.

BLUM GOVERNMENT GIVES RESIGNATION

the Senate as Gardey continued reading in a monotone. Senators and spectators alike seemed to realize it was the funeral oration for Blum's Popular Front government, perhaps of the left wing coalition of Socialists, Communists and Radical-Socialists.

Gardey concluded: "We are not at all ignorant of the perils of the hour. We measure the gravity of our action. But with calm conscience we firmly think that in accepting our proposal (to defeat the bill) the Senate, faithful to its mission, will once again serve the permanent interests of the republic."

Facing the hostile Senate, Premier Blum declared dictatorial powers over finance and economy were the only solution for the nation's troubles.

He said parliament would be forced to give them to another government.

The Socialist premier accused the senators of refusing his finance bill simply because they wanted to throw him out.

"You are not objecting to my program, but to me," he charged. "Of course! Of course!" senators shouted back.

When M. Blum declared the bill would have passed easily if his arch-enemy, Finance Committee Chairman Caillaux had presented it, there was an answering chorus of "naturally!"

M. Blum became increasingly bitter as his speech continued. Senators seemed to delight in interrupting him. At one point after M. Blum had accused the senators of wrecking his cabinet, which he declared was founded on the will of the people, senators stood and thumped their desks to drown him out.

President Jules Jeanneney pounded with his gavel to restore order, then declared: "This man came here to defend his bill. After he is through he will have to take the consequences of his works."

At the time of the debate, anticipating Blum's resignation, Edouard Daladier, his Minister of Defence, already had prepared a list for a new cabinet.

"No, I did not."

At yesterday's session of the inquiry a letter written by Bernard Hannah in which the Homewood Sanitarium janitor told of Angus McIntosh, Montreal, being placed "downstairs" with a pair of trousers his only clothing, was read.

"For some reason or other," the letter said, "he was put down stairs in A2 (ward for unruly patients) and deprived of all his clothes excepting his pants."

Col. Thomas V. Vien, Montreal, associate counsel for Mr. McIntosh, cross-examined A. P. Bell, Homewood bursar on whether Homewood paid a 15 per cent dividend to shareholders last year. Bell said he believed so, but was not sure.

"Will there be any charge against the sanitarium for medical attendance for Hon. Walter Scott?" asked Vien.

"Against us or the estate," replied Bell. The accounts would be sent to Homewood because the attendance was ordered by Homewood, he explained.

Bread Report In Vancouver Soon

VANCOUVER (CP)—The civic bread inquiry report will be presented to the city council April 18, Alderman John Bennett announced today.

Mr. Bennett and Alderman H. J. De Graves comprised the two-man board named by the council last year to investigate charges made by Dr. Lyle Telford, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of the British Columbia Legislature for Vancouver East, that an "unfair combine of 'mill controlled bakeries' engaged in 'unfair practices' in Vancouver.

In erecting his residence, the wise man starts with an expertly prepared plan. The structure is then built as desired. Results are pleasing. Confusion and waste are avoided.

Your Will is your plan for preserving your estate. Granted it was well drawn, has it been reviewed periodically to meet changed conditions?

By modernizing the plan, undue shrinkage in the estate's assets is minimized.

Our Officers can give you valuable suggestions that will be helpful to your Lawyer in bringing your Will up to date.

Housing Plans Are Advocated

M.P.'s Hear Lacroix Suggest Fund; Stevens Criticizes Government

OTTAWA (CP) — From private members in the Commons Thursday Hon. Norman Rogers, Labor Minister, heard a variety of suggestions for lessening the number of unemployed.

Wilfrid Lacroix, Liberal, Quebec-Montmorency, advocated a $100,000,000 low-cost housing scheme. He said it should be along lines which had been successfully followed in Norway and Sweden.

His plan was that in each municipality a commission be set up and the Dominion loan the municipality an appropriate sum of money without interest. The commission would decide on sites and plans for the houses which, built on a mass production basis with economies in material and transportation costs, should not cost more than $2,400 each.

They could be sold to working men on a monthly payment basis. Payments should not exceed $15 or $20 a month over a period of 15 years, he said.

Another Liberal, R. J. Deachman, North-Huron, Ontario, urged cutting the sales tax from 8 to 5 per cent, abolishing the 3 per cent excise tax and lowering tariffs all along the line. Only by freeing trade and increasing purchasing power could Canada regain its feet, he said.

Reduction of the sales tax from 8 to 5 per cent, he estimated, would mean a loss to the treasury of $54,000,000, but, because of the pyramiding effect of the tax, it would reach $80,000,000 in general purchasing power of the public.

STEVENS CRITICIZES

Criticism of the government came from Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction, Kootenay East, who split with the Conservatives in 1935 to found the Reconstruction Party. He charged the government with doing nothing concrete while municipalities throughout Canada were bankrupt or on the verge of bankruptcy because of high relief costs.

Quibbling over constitutional matters was holding up action, he said. The government was quarrelling with Premier Hepburn of Ontario, who, whatever might be said about him, was a young man, a vigorous leader, and the head of a strong Liberal government in the biggest Canadian province.

Mr. Stevens urged the government to cut across red tape and technicalities and use the services of experts in the various departments to work out a solution to the unemployment problem.

Canadian municipalities were being forced to the wall, he claimed, instancing the default of Moose Jaw, Sask., a few months ago. This had a depressing effect on Canadian credit abroad.

CITIES RUN DOWN

"Unless some step is taken here, there will be a very serious time ahead for Canadian cities," he declared. There was not a major city in the country that was not a disgrace to Canada "in regard to a large part of the downtown districts and the older sections in regard to housing."

"It will take us 30 years to build up the cities of Canada to a decent level of construction," Mr. Stevens continued. "The Minister (of Labor) says the municipalities are responsible and he will deal with them only through the provinces."

"The minister and his colleagues will have to face this question sooner or later. They have failed utterly to face it through this (National Employment) commission because its report does not contain anything in that connection except some pious observation that we ought to have a housing scheme."

WHEN HE WAS MINISTER

Many times through his speech, the former Conservative was interrupted by government supporters. At one point he was asked what he had done about housing, municipal financing and other national problems while he was sitting on the Treasury benches.

He had advocated these same policies for years, Mr. Stevens replied, in and out of office. And, he added, he had left office.

As an aside, Mr. Stevens charged the government with continually heaping opprobrium on the Alberta administration. He said the federal government went out of its way to paint the activities of Premier Aberhart in the worst possible light. "Because the premier of that province is an exponent of some peculiar ideas of economy with which they do not agree."

Marquess Passes Away in England

Lord Milford Haven, Great-grandson of Queen Victoria, Dies Aged 45

LONDON (CP) — The Marquess of Milford Haven, great-grandson of Queen Victoria, died today after an illness of several weeks. He was 45.

For many years Lord Milford Haven served in the navy and saw action in the Great War in the naval battles of Jutland, Heligoland and Dogger Bank. He attained the rank of commander in 1926 and was retired in 1932.

He was born November 6, 1892, son of the first Marquess of Milford Haven and Princess Victoria, daughter of Louis IV, Grand Duke of Hesse, and of Princess Alice, daughter of Queen Victoria. He married in 1916 Princess Nadejda, second daughter of Grand Duke Michael of Russia.

There are two children, a son, the 18-year-old Earl of Medina, who succeeds to the marquessate, and a daughter, Lady Elizabeth Mountbatten.

He also leaves a brother, Lord Louis Mountbatten, and two sisters, Princess Andrew of Greece and Crown Princess Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden.

Lord Milford Haven's father, Prince Louis of Battenberg, was First Sea Lord of the British navy at the outbreak of the Great War, but retired largely on account of hostility towards him due to his German birth.

PILOT WITH COUNCIL

Elected to the council last December, the pilot was unable to qualify because he was in the Arctic with Sir Hubert Wilkins searching for the lost Russian fliers.

Dewdney C.C.F. Is to Nominate

MISSION CITY, B.C. (CP) — A nominating convention of Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Party clubs in the Dewdney electoral riding will be held here April 14 to select a candidate for the coming provincial by-election.

The by-election was made necessary by the death of Dr. Frank P. Patterson recently. The following have been named as prospective candidates: F. G. Bonn, Hammond; J. M. Cameron, Haney; G. E. Ellinson, Haney; H. Gargrave, Vancouver; W. W. Lefebvre, Vancouver; W. Mandale, Mission City; Miss M. M. Osterhout, Vancouver; A. Webster, Vancouver, and G. Weaver, New Westminster.

Would Control Flow of Food

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — Regulations of the flow of supplies of foodstuffs to the United Kingdom by a series of commodity councils was advocated by Sir Reginald Dorman-Smith on behalf of the British delegation to the Empire Producers' Conference here.

Sir Reginald, immediate past president of the National Farmers' Union, also suggested concerted action should be taken by the governments within the Empire in negotiating trade agreements.

Slag Plant May Employ Twenty

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP) — The city council has granted the Interior Contracting Company of Penticton an option on several million tons of granulated slag at the old Grandby smelter site. Company officials said they were experimenting with the slag in the hope of producing construction materials. They said there was a possibility a plant employing 12 to 20 men might be established before the end of the year.

HEDLEY TRIAL IS ADJOURNED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Trial of two former Hedley Amalgamated Gold Mine officials on fraud charges was adjourned Thursday till April 19 after a Vancouver assayer had told an assize court jury core samples he had assayed had been "salted."

J. R. Williams said a 30-foot core from the mine assayed from $41 to $103 per ton after another half of the same core had shown values of only 35 cents per ton. The two halves should have approximated the same values, Williams said.

He was testifying at the trial of Russell Barker, ex-president of the mining company, and William Cox, mine manager, who are charged with conspiracy to defraud.

The charge was laid after a British Columbia government investigation into the mine management following a spectacular price collapse of Hedley Amalgamated stock on the Vancouver Stock Exchange a year ago.

"On February 19, 1937, I told Barker in my opinion No. 7 hole had been definitely salted," Williams testified. "Barker said the best thing to do would be to go up right away and find out what damage had been done."

Williams said Barker seemed considerably perturbed at the evidence of salting. The witness declared he had always had the impression Barker believed the Hedley mine would be a commercial producer.

Pebev Racey, mining engineer, said he had examined the mine for diamond drilling in November, 1936, and found no indication of ore in the McKinnon tunnel.

SALE OF HEDLEY PROPERTY URGED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Managing Director W. G. Norrie-Loewenthal of Hedley Amalgamated Gold Mines Limited, told the annual meeting of that company here Thursday that "future operating policy of the company is still undetermined."

The Hedley stock, barred from trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange after a spectacular price drop February 23, last year, is still unlisted.

The managing director told the shareholders that in some respects veins at the Hedley property in the Similkameen district were "encouraging" in others the ore did not measure up to commercial standards.

He said he was unable to make any definite recommendations regarding development of the property since diamond drilling had not progressed far enough.

He suggested disposal of the property to other interests because "many companies and individuals with greater resources than ours might be attracted to assume the risk that development would involve."

All officers and directors were re-elected.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Cariboo Gold Quartz production rose to a total value of $131,145 in March, according to a report issued at the head office here today. Main mill production, from 8,388 tons of ore, was 3,493 ounces, valued at $122,255, while Ball Mill cleanup yielded 254 ounces, worth $8,882. This was an increase of $17,605 over production in February.

Our National Debt Burden

CANADA'S NATIONAL DEBT, WHICH rose sharply during the war, is a major national problem of which every taxpayer is never unconscious. Its burden lies in the interest charges which the federal treasury must meet every year. The Toronto Star has been digging up the statistics on these payments, with results that bring a measure of reassurance in these days of growing debt talk.

Examination shows that the interest charges on the debt which Canada had to provide in the four years 1934-37, were no greater than in the four post-war years 1921-24. In 1921-24 the annual debt interest was as low as 135% millions and as high as 139% millions. In 1934-37 it ranged from 134% millions to 139% millions.

In actual amount, therefore, the debt charges in the two periods were practically identical. But as the country has grown during the interval, the per capita interest cost is now smaller than in the immediate post-war period. In 1921-24, the interest per capita ranged from $14.76 to $15.88. In 1934-37 from $12.17 to $12.90.

The debt is indeed a burden, but refinancing and new financing at favorable rates have kept the actual interest charges at the early post-war figure, while these factors, combined with the growth in population, have reduced the interest per capita. The figures for the single years 1921 and 1937 serve to illustrate this:

	Debt Interest	Per Capita
1921	$139,551,520	$15.88
1937	137,405,000	12.36

This debt interest includes what has to be paid on debt created by the National Railways deficits. It is Canada's total interest burden—heavy enough, it is true, but no heavier than in 1921-24, and much lower per capita.

Up to Mr. Taylor Now

OPINION SEEMS TO BE SOLIDLY BEHIND the suggestion that Mr. J. S. Taylor, federal M.P. for Nanaimo, should resign his seat and, if he still wants to be a Liberal, come back and ask his constituents what they think about it.

The Nanaimo Herald says editorially: "In accordance with those principles of democracy to which Mr. Taylor avows, it appears as if the only fair way to settle these contentious points in the interest of the electors of this constituency is for that gentleman to resign his seat. This would make a by-election necessary, and give all parties the opportunity of nominating their own candidate."

The Nanaimo Free Press says: "The Liberals had their own candidate in the last election. Their standard bearer was Alan Chambers, not Mr. Taylor. If Nanaimo is to become a Liberal seat for the remainder of the session, how many Liberals of this constituency are willing to be represented in Parliament by a man who originally ran under C.C.F. colors, and not the candidate of their own choice? They surely have the right to name and vote for their own candidate."

Writing in the Nanaimo Herald, Mr. T. A. Barnard, well-known political leader with definite views on many public questions, says in part: "If Mr. Taylor wishes to be honest and consistent, which he talks so much about, he should resign his seat in the House of Commons and give the electors in this constituency an opportunity of approving or otherwise his actions and political somersaults since he was elected. . . . In 1935 Mr. Taylor was elected on the C.C.F. platform. Shortly after he joined the Social Construction Party (now defunct) and was expelled from the C.C.F. Now he pleads with childlike simplicity to be permitted to take shelter beneath the banner of the Liberal party. Quite a record in less than three years, even for such an outstanding opportunist."

As already expressed in these columns, we are of the opinion that Mr. Taylor should resign his seat in the House of Commons forthwith, and ascertain the views of his constituents in his large and highly-important riding.

A Familiar Plea

FROM VARIOUS POINTS IN CANADA during recent months there have come a crop of suggestions that "now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party." It is not a new plea. But it is being dressed up in newly-cut "crisis clothes." A correspondent of the Vancouver Daily Province, for example, takes up more than a column to argue that "the time has certainly arrived when the people of Canada should demand a union government at Ottawa, and in our various provinces as well." He proceeds to tell us, moreover, that "in ordinary times something can be said in defence of party governments and party politics," but there is scarcely anything that can be said in their favor in times like these.

One of the reasons there should be an end of party government, he writes is that "The world's present terrible situation, internationally considered, is due primarily to the wrecking of the League of Nations in the United States by party politicians. There is no more tragic fact in the history of the last 300 years." Then we get this: "There are problems of such vast significance today that it is simply absurd to think that any present-day party can solve them. . . . Somehow the leaders in our nation must be awakened from their dreams, and evidently the common people must do the awakening."

A period in Canada's history when a real crisis was upon us—1932-1935—was significant for the absence of any concerted effort on the part of the Conservatives of the Dominion to pave the way for a union government. The Liberals naturally were not involved for the reason that "the common people" had retired Mr. Mackenzie King from office because Mr. Bennett was going to end unemployment or perish in the attempt and had promised . . . (well, we need not go into that any further). What obviously is gall and wormwood to the Conservative mind now, of course, is that practically all the people of Canada are wide awake and doing their best to forget their error of judgment at the polls in 1930. They are too wide awake to be fooled by the blandishments, or otherwise, of politicians out of office.

The letter to which we have referred is signed by A. M. Sanford, An A. M. Sanford (Rev.) ran as Conservative candidate for New Westminster in the provincial elections of 1924 and 1928. He was defeated on both occasions! The same man?

Echoes of West Fulham

THE CONSENSUS OF MODERATE opinion in Great Britain is that the outcome of Labor's striking victory in West Fulham tends—according to Mr. A. C. Cummings, the Southam correspondent in London—"to intensify criticism of the government's negotiations with Mussolini for a Mediterranean settlement." Mr. Cummings quotes The Times (London) as saying that "the Italian government, once Britain has diplomatically recognized the conquest of Ethiopia, will give formal assurances of instant withdrawal of its troops when the war ends."

Let it be noted once again that, on the authority of the London Times, Mussolini means to help to finish the war in Spain in Insurgent Franco's favor before he withdraws any of his troops from the peninsula—and only then when Britain figuratively swallows all she has said about the Italian grab in Africa. The winner of the West Fulham contest used as her election slogan: "Back to the League, or get out!" Until the small hours of yesterday morning, Mr. Cummings says, the people paraded the streets chanting: "Chamberlain Must Go!"

Economy Opportunities

IT IS A LITTLE OLD-FASHIONED, THIS idea brought forward by Dr. A. R. Ellis, president of the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratories, that "savings of hundreds of millions annually would be made if consumers generally had the opportunity of taking advantage of the latest scientific developments."

Choosing just three products—hosiery, automobile tires, and coal—Dr. Ellis remarked that from 20 to 30 per cent of the consumer's bill for those necessities could be saved by general use of new and improved products.

The saving and economy instincts have not been greatly extolled virtues in the last few years. We have been quick to "wear it out and buy another." However, Dr. Ellis's appeal to take advantage of these newest scientific accomplishments should fit into the scheme of things. We could save that 30 per cent and spend it for something else. That is the way this country was built up in the first place.

Notes

A British business man says America will never have another depression. No, they call them recessions now.

Those dieting actresses who look so longingly at the pastry store displays have been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Scientists say sharks are not dangerous, but a Better Business Bureau warns that this does not include the lean wolf variety.

CANADA'S "SPOKESMAN"

From the Printed Word, Montreal
While Canadians wonder what the next development will be and whether the unknown British foreign policy is likely to involve this country in another war, a reassuring note is sounded by their fellow-countryman, Beverley Baxter. As reported in a Canadian Press dispatch, Mr. Baxter said in the House: "I speak for Canada, who is grateful to this country and this government for having preserved the peace of Europe so long and for having tried to put forward a foreign policy which is Christian and forbearing, and which apparently has failed."

Mr. Baxter, to judge from his published writings, has access to many more sources of information than are available to the average man, so it may be that he has sound reason for his individual gratitude; but diligent search of Canadian Orders-in-Council reveals no record of his appointment as official spokesman for his native country. To express the gratitude of Canada for a foreign policy, "which apparently has failed," to use Mr. Baxter's own words, is a form of procedure strange enough to invite comment. Even gratitude for a successful foreign policy might more appropriately be expressed by an elected representative of the Canadian people. The ironical phrasing of Mr. Baxter's gratitude, if he speaks for Canada, falls short of the best traditions of statesmanlike utterances.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

LULL

HAVE YOU NOTICED the papers this last while? I mean, have you noticed that the crisis in Europe has hardly hit the front page for days—and a local murder has crowded most of the world news into the corner? Only two or three weeks ago the world was on the brink of war. Governments trembled. Soldiers stood ready to march. People out this way sowed extra potatoes. Now the whole thing seems to have been forgotten. The crisis is over and we can go on with consideration of the spring hats.

Actually, of course, the crisis has only gone underground again and will appear anon in some new form. It has been underground for 20 years, bobbing up occasionally, but we pay no attention to it unless it is on the surface, hitting us in the eye. We have been at war since 1914, a brief military phase being followed by a long commercial phase, but it is only when something exciting happens that we realize it, and then only for a few days.

The general process goes on underneath, the long war of the haves and the have-nots, between nations and inside nations. It will go on as long as this generation is alive, at least. Perhaps it is just as well that the thing seems to go in waves, on the surface, anyway, because it creates the illusion every now and then that things are better and easier, and this gives us a chance to enjoy the spring hats while the crisis is off the front page. And we are such incurable optimists that if nobody is actually shooting at us we imagine we are at peace.

POOR WORLD

MR. WALT DISNEY'S "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which showed here recently, was a fine movie, but it was much more than that, a symptom of the times. Here you have a world in which the Best Minds have come to the conclusion that there is nothing in life really but certain chemical and electrical phenomena which they don't understand. Here you have a world in which the Best Minds expect the human animal to live by certain excellent principles of logic and according to well-established theories of engineering. And into this world comes Snow White and her Seven Dwarfs and the hard-boiled world, which doesn't believe in anything any more, jams every theatre in existence to see a fairy tale.

Oh, how the poor old world wants to recapture some of the things it used to believe in its childhood! How it wants to believe again in something it can understand! How tired it is of the civilization it has so laboriously built up! How it would like to go back again to fairyland! Infinitely sad is the spectacle of the adult world, goggle-eyed at an animated cartoon of a childish story. It is the spectacle of a world which isn't happy for all its science and all its comfort which suddenly realizes, when a genius like Mr. Disney comes along to remind it, that it has missed everything worthwhile in life.

How curious, too, that a highly-complicated machine down in Hollywood has been used to make this fairy tale, to capture the old childish ecstasy. That, of course, is the true purpose and the proper use of the machine. If it were always used sensibly, if it were mastered instead of being made the master, how happy we all could be! If the machine were mastered instead of being the master, we should all have time to roam the woods and pick wildflowers and go adventuring.

Alas, the machine is our boss and we are bound to it and it takes us where it pleases, so that people come in complicated machines called automobiles and sit in theatres air-conditioned by machinery in order to see a brief glimpse of Snow White and fairyland, made in Hollywood with other machines, and they go away sadly in their machines again with an empty feeling, knowing that they are slaves.

So Mr. Disney's masterpiece, the work of this strange young man who has been heaved up in the most unlikely place out of the most unpromising material, makes the children of the world laugh and shout with joy, but it makes the grown-ups sad after they have laughed at the funny parts; but not sad enough to do anything about it. The grown-ups will cling to their unsatisfactory world until they are blown off it.

THOMAS

THIS IS proving a hard season for the frogs out our way. They don't seem to appreciate all the attention they are getting from the demons next door. Ten of them have been captured in our lily pond, named and classified, but they don't seem to like it. A little green one called Thomas has simply refused to go on with this civilizing process. When the little boy next door brought him into the house and hid him in a bowl in the china cupboard, Thomas got mad and left. He just disappeared, dropped out of sight; and they tell me next door that it is extremely uncomfortable to have a frog drop out of sight in your china cupboard. You never know where he may turn up.

He was seen once beside the ladder by his owner, but before he could be captured he disappeared again, and nobody likes to drink a glass of milk or eat any of the cold leftovers out of the larder any more. The little boys tell me in confidence he heard a croak not long ago in the linen closet, but he thought it just as well not to tell the family. So Thomas is still at large, and I thought I would let you know in case you see a spare frog. You'll know he is Thomas and you'll return him to his owner.

POSTMASTERS

From Brockville Recorder and Times
During 28 months of the present government's existence, 312 postmasters were dismissed and during the same period of the Bennett government, 363 of the same officeholders were asked to step out. The postmaster who dares in politics when he is not supposed to always suffers, no matter to which party the government is attached.

JOSEPH ROSE

J.L.S.
JEWELLER and OPTICIAN

Confederation Clinic

J.B.M.'s editorial comment in the Winnipeg Free Press on Rowell Commission sessions.

For the holders of Alberta bonds R. D. Tighe hopes, or says he hopes, the Alberta Government will some day see the light and come to a voluntary agreement with its creditors, now deprived of half their bond interest by arbitrary decree. Mr. Tighe thinks provinces should secure a lowering of interest by refunding with Dominion guarantee, the Dominion thereafter controlling their borrowing.

A record for brevity was set by Boville Clark of Calgary, speaking for the Board of Trade. As his brief told a story heard twenty times, Mr. Clark considerably filed it unread and spoke to only one point. This point was news to the Commission. What Southern Alberta needs, says Mr. Clark, is a market for oil. Given that blessing, by a subsidy, a pipe line, a tariff or some other adventurous aid, Alberta will move into the class of wealthy provinces and become a mark for the rich propaganda. As Chief Justice Rowell said, this was about the first cheery information the Commission has had since it started work.

WELLS AND ATHEISM

To the Editor:—Maud Howe quotes the following from the historian, H. G. Wells:

"Jesus was some fine sort of man perhaps, but our Saviour of the Trinity is a dressed-up inconsistent effigy of men, an infinity making significant promises of helpful miracles for the cheating of simple souls, an ever absent help in time of trouble."

We should like to submit that a more stolid and offensive statement it would be difficult to make. Such a statement reveals a blindness to facts that can only be explained as arising from a subtle moral perversity in the man.

The late Professor Goldwin Smith, a specialist in history, was no orthodox believer in the Bible, but in one of his essays he refers to the blending of meekness and majesty in the person of Jesus, to the union of a beautiful amiability with an incomparable moral grandeur in His character, and he argues that no matter how much the human race may progress on lines of industrial, intellectual, or moral progress, it can never surpass the great example set forth in the New Testament gospels.

How would Ridpath's great work on history do as a substitute for that of Wells?

THOMAS VOADEN.
Retired Minister of the United Church, St. Catharines.

SIMCOE'S DEBT REDUCTION

From Hanover Post
Ten years ago the town of Simcoe had a debt of about $750,000 and a population of 5,000, making a per capita debt of $150. Today, with a population of 6,000, the debt is $450,000, or only $75 per capita.

MONEY MAKES PARTY GO

From Windsor Star
A political group without funds has little chance of getting anywhere for any length of time. There are legitimate expenses to be met in all party organizations, and such expenses are seldom light.

Better English

By D. C. Williams

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I shall write you next week."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "khedive"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Navigable, manageable, indefatigable.

4. What does the word "incalculable" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with ind that means "native; innate"?

Answers

1. Say, "I shall write to you next week." 2. Pronounce ke-dev, first e as in bet unstressed, second e as in me, accent last syllable. 3. Manageable. 4. Not capable of being calculated. "The limit of space is incalculable." (Accent follows the first l.) 5. Indigenous.

Distinguished Guests at Club

Four Speakers Make Brief Addresses to Rotarians at Luncheon

Distinguished head table guests in the persons of L. R. McGregor, Australian trade commissioner to Canada; Inspector G. W. Fish of the R.C.M.P., Dr. H. L. Keenleyside and Fred "Cyclone" Taylor, district superintendent of immigration, spoke briefly to the Rotary Club at luncheon yesterday. Mayor George Miller of Vancouver was also a guest at the head table but did not speak.

In a brief address Mr. McGregor declared Australia's contact with British Columbia to be of the most valuable nature in the promotion of trade. He extended greetings from "down under" to the members of the club.

Dr. Keenleyside, first secretary of the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa, summarized the object of the recently appointed board of review to investigate the illegal entry of Japanese into British Columbia. The vital body in the investigation, he said, was a committee at Ottawa which first made a general report on the alien situation in Canada as a whole. The committee looking into the Japanese situation was merely one small aspect of the investigation.

The purpose of the board was also to give people with any information on the subject the opportunity of presenting it to an official body. Proof, he said, was not necessary. The board would look into the information as presented.

In a few words Inspector Fish followed Dr. Keenleyside by saying concrete evidence on such cases would be welcomed but was not essential. Fred Taylor said he had no official right to speak on the subject but instead would wish Victoria every success in the requirement of an arena for hockey.

The last-mentioned three speakers are all members of the board of investigation into the specific case of Japanese gaining illegal entry into British Columbia.

CHRIST CHURCH A.Y.P.A.

At the weekly meeting of the Christ Church branch of the Anglican Young People's Association Wednesday night, an interesting debate was held between group one and group four, the subject being, "Resolved that the automobile is more beneficial to mankind than the horse." Group one were represented by Chris Howland and Bill Fane, while group four were represented by Miss Vinnie Kilsby and Dick Batey. Miss Pinhorn and Bob Clark, who acted as judges, awarded the decision to group four, who upheld the affirmative.

A minstrel show, under the direction of Roger Gray, will be presented on May 14.

The annual A.Y.P.A. dance presented by this branch will be held on April 29, at 9, in the Foresters' Hall.

The annual social of the First Canadian Pioneer Battalion will be held Saturday night in the Army and Navy Veterans headquarters, 1001 Wharf Street. Members will parade at the clubrooms at 8. Further information can be secured from J. C. Rivers, president.

Damages amounting to $75 and a permanent injunction restraining Pemberton & Son Limited, from opening his mail, were awarded R. C. Cooper, and a counter claim of $226.41 was granted to Pemberton & Son Limited, in a Supreme Court judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Robertson today. In each case parties were given County Court costs with their awards.

HEALTH SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Chickenpox and Whooping Cough Abating, Report Shows

Victoria's health outlook was bright today as mild epidemics of chickenpox and whooping cough, prevalent during the first quarter of the year, appeared to be abating rapidly.

During March there were 95 cases of chickenpox reported, swelling the total for the first three months to 165. In the whooping cough section 26 were listed during last month, to bring the total to 84 since January 1.

Seven cases of scarlet fever were reported during March, making the total 19. One case only of rubella, one of mumps and two of measles were registered during the three months.

A suggestion that a bowling green should be laid out in Windsor Park, Oak Bay, as part of a program of development planned there will be considered by the Oak Bay Council at a committee-of-the-whole session.

The proposal was made in a letter set before the council at a meeting yesterday evening by one of its members, Councillor P. A. Gibbs. In addition to being of advantage to residents of the municipality, the green would make an additional attraction for tourists, the letter said.

Councillor Gibbs estimated the cost for two greens and a clubhouse at not more than $4,000, and suggested the work should be made a relief project.

Reviews Work Of Foundation

More Than $9,500,000 Spent For Advancement of Knowledge

During 1937 the Rockefeller Foundation appropriated a total sum in excess of $9,500,000. Of this amount $2,400,000 was given to medical sciences, $2,200,000 to public health, $2,000,000 to the social sciences, $1,100,000 to the humanities and $400,000 to rural construction in China, a review of the Foundation for 1937 shows.

In carrying out its 1937 program the Foundation operated in 52 different countries from Norway to the Fiji Islands. Forty-five per cent of the money given went to countries outside the United States and the remainder was for work in the United States.

The Foundation's program in terms of the broad objective, is the advancement of knowledge. Within this general area there are specific fields upon which emphasis is at present being placed. The emphasis in the medical sciences is largely on psychiatry; in the natural sciences, on experimental biology; in public health, on the development of a trained personnel and on the study and control of certain diseases; in the social sciences, on international relations, social security and public administration; and in humanities, on efforts which tend to raise the general cultural level.

Except to a limited extent in public health, the Foundation is not an operating organization. It conducts no researches of its own. Its activities are confined to the support of other agencies—universities, laboratories and research institutes.

In accordance with its purpose the aim of the trustees has been to maintain the work of the Foundation on an international plane without consideration of flags or political doctrines, creeds or sects.

DUNCAN

All members were present at the school board meeting on Wednesday evening, with O. T. Smythe in the chair.

Through the courtesy of the McMillan Electric Company and the Hudson's Bay Company, four radios have been installed in the schools, free of cost to the board, for an experimental period of 10 weeks. A definite report on the results will be submitted at the end of that period.

The chairman read a statement dealing with comparisons of the average cost per pupil in Duncan schools as compared with the province as a whole. The sum of $65 was set aside for the purchase of a lantern slide machine for use in the high and elementary schools.

LANGFORD

The monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Guild was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. A. Phipps. An invitation for members to attend a card party on April 20 at the home of Mrs. W. E. Stevenson, was received from St. John's Women's Auxiliary. The members arranged to send a parcel to the Victoria committee on medical aid for China.

GOODBYE DANDRUFF!

The Truth About Soap Shampoos

1. This photograph shows hair and dandruff scattered, but not removed by ordinary soap shampoos.

2. All bacteria, dandruff and other foreign matter completely destroyed and removed by the Fitch Shampoo.

THERE is a simple, easy way to rid yourself of dandruff with the very first application. All that is necessary is to use a shampoo that completely dissolves dandruff and then washes it away.

Repeated laboratory, as well as practical, tests show that ordinary shampoos will not dissolve dandruff. Fitch's Dandruff Remover Shampoo dissolves every speck of dandruff instantly—or your money will be refunded—and then washes it away. It rinses clean in hard or soft water. Equally as good for blondes as brunettes. Try it today! Sold at drug counters. Professional applications at beauty and barber shops.

After and between Fitch Shampoo, Fitch's Ideal Hair Tonic is the ideal preparation to stimulate the hair roots and give new life, luster and beauty to your hair.

TO RENT LOTS FOR PARKING

Lands Committee Approves Scheme For Space in Downtown Area

Sale of more parcels of land in various parts of town and rental of two lots in the downtown area for parking space will be recommended to the City Council by the lands committee on Monday. The committee yesterday gave provisional approval to the sales and arranged to rent a lot at the corner of Blanshard Street and Cormorant to F. G. Galley for $15 a month, provided Mr. Galley improved the property, installed water connections and made it suitable for parking.

R. B. Baxter received approval for an application for a parking lot on the corner of Broughton and Langley Street, for which he will pay the city $10 a month rental.

Both deals are subject to ratification by the council.

Eagles to Hold Annual Banquet

Members of Victoria Aerie No. 12, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will celebrate the granting of the club charter in 1899 at a banquet and smoking concert to be held tomorrow night in the Hudson's Bay dining-room at 7.30.

W. Bridgwood, chairman of committees, has arranged a fine program of entertainment. Past President C. H. Lester is in charge of banquet arrangements and requests all officers and members of Aerie No. 12 to attend. Members from up-land points will also be in attendance.

A. Shevlund of the Tacoma Eagles will be the principal speaker. Some of the other members of Aerie No. 12 who will attend will be: F. LeRoy, past state president; J. M. Hughes, first president of No. 12 and the oldest past president in the jurisdiction, H. Siebenbaum and J. W. Meldrum.

In honor of her daughter, Miss Margaret Relf, who will leave at the end of the month to be married in Prince Rupert, Mrs. A. E. Relf, 1022 Southgate Street, entertained at an informal tea on Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were gay with spring flowers and tea was served from a table centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders and crystal vases containing mauve and pink sweet peas. KNITTER HAS LOVELY HANDS

You'd never think, to look at her lovely hands, that she works in a knitting mill all day. They look like pampered hands that have never had to do a day's hard work—and yet they work every day. "When I first started this work," she said, "I thought I would have to say good-bye to attractive hands. Working around the machines played havoc with them. And I'm quite sure I would have had rough, coarse skin long since if I hadn't discovered Hinds Honey and Almond Cream. Really, it surprises me yet, when I remember how quickly Hinds softened and smoothed out my hands."

It is surprising how quickly Hinds softens and smooths hands. But you can see one reason when you first pour out a few creamy drops. The rich ingredients in Hinds, combined with the Sunshine Vitamin D, banish every trace of coarseness and roughness. And it is delightful to use.

You can purchase Hinds Honey and Almond Cream at any toilet goods counter. Attractively packaged. Convenient sizes. Economical to use. Buy a bottle today. Make your hands lovely, too. (Adv.)

By PETE SALLAWAY

BRITISH COLUMBIA athletes continue their bids for national championships on two fronts tonight. In Raymond, Alberta, Vancouver Westerns, conquerors of the Dominion in that hectic playoff for the provincial senior men's basketball championship, tackle the Union Jacks in the first of a two-game total point series in the western Canada playdowns. Farther north in Saskatoon the Trail Smoke Eaters will skate on to the ice for the third game of their western Canada Allan Cup final against Port Arthur Bearcats.

Westerns are expected to uphold the record established by other British Columbia teams and come through to victory over the Jacks, perennial Alberta titleholders. The lads from the Morgon settlement have been trying hard to lift a western Canada crown for years but have never been able to hurdle the stiff competition. Vancouver Province, Winnipeg Robertson Memorial, Dominion and University of British Columbia have put out the Jacks in successive seasons. The Westerns, a mighty smart gang of basketballers should whip the Jacks, but don't ever think it will be a walkover. The boys from the beet-growing country are tough on their home floor. I remember the scrap they put up against the Dominion three years ago.

The much-travelled Trail Smoke Eaters should make it three straight over Port Arthur tonight. After taking the Bearcats a little too easy in the first game when they were pushed into two overtime periods to win, the lads from interior B.C. put on the heat in the second clash to win 8 to 1. A victory tonight would give the train-weary Trail outfit a chance to get some much-needed rest before engaging in the Allan Cup final against the winner of the eastern final between Cornwall Flyers and Quebec Aces.

Those Trail boys have certainly seen western Canada from a train window if nothing else. In battling their way through Calgary Rangers and Flin Flon Bombers to the final against the Ports, the Smoke Eaters have played at Calgary, Edmonton and Saskatoon. Now they are back in the last-named city. The B.C. champs have at least proven they can perform in championship style in any man's rink.

It is reported that a large syndicate intends to build as many as 30 new ice hockey rinks in Britain, in view of the enormous increase of popularity of the game. This would tend to encourage the sport beyond measure and there would be a possibility of Britain's wrestling from Canada and the United States the reputation of being the principal ice hockey countries in the world. One estimate states that this season 70,000 people patronized ice hockey matches each week. The figure aimed at is 1,000,000.

Sport ramblings—"Lighthouse" Harry Cooper clouted a golf ball 255 yards with a polo mallet the other day in Hollywood . . . and Bob Sweeney, British amateur champion, killed a seagull with a shot, and the dead bird and ball were found a foot from the hole . . . Joe Devine, head scout of the New York Yankees club, says Joe DiMaggio will be docked for every day of training he has missed . . . Fritz Ostermuller, Boston Red Sox pitcher, has had 22 operations for a shoulder injury in the last five years . . . Rolfe Hemsley figures Bob Feller can win 18 to 23 games for Cleveland this season "if he uses his head" . . . Buddy Baer may return to Madison Square Garden next month . . . but not as a semi-windup performer.

Saskatchewan Cage Challenge

SASKATOON—For the first time in several years Saskatoon will be represented in the men's Dominion basketball playdowns, according to an announcement made last night by Roy A. MacKenzie, president of the Saskatchewan Basketball Association.

Saskatoon Grads winners of the provincial title against Regina Rifles, have decided to challenge for the championship. They will meet the winner of the Raymond Union Jacks-Vancouver Westerns series in the interprovincial playdowns.

England-Scotland Encounter Will Attract Mammoth Soccer Crowd Saturday

LONDON—Several English Football League teams in the championship race will field weakened eleven in tomorrow's matches due to international demands. England meets Scotland at Wembley Stadium in the concluding tilt of the 22 players participating have been drawn from English clubs.

Preston North End will supply four of its Scottish-born players and Arsenal and Middlesbrough will each have three men taking part. At present Arsenal is leading the league with a one-point margin over Middlesbrough and Wolverhampton Wanderers, Preston being three points behind the gunners.

Forty-eight special trains, 26 of them from Scotland, will carry visitors to London for the international match, although England already has clinched the title.

An interesting development of the week has been decision of the rules and revision committee of the Football Association to recommend to the council that clubs participating in the English Cup competition be instructed to abstain from publishing the amount of gate receipts at their matches.

ARSENAL WEAKENED

For their match at Leeds, Arsenal will be without Hapgood, chosen England's captain, Copping and Bastin, but the home team will also miss two stars, Sproston and Stephenson.

The Preston team has a home game against Derby County, which was defeated 5 to 2 in the corresponding match last year, while Middlesbrough entertains Huddersfield Town, cup finalist along with Preston. Wolverhampton Wanderers will have to fight hard for points against the fast-improving Portsmouth squad.

Aston Villa and Sheffield United meet on the latter's ground at Bramall Lane in a battle that will go a long way towards deciding the second division championship. The Villans with 46 points are one up on the United, but their midweek 3 to 0 defeat at Burnley was a poor prelude to tomorrow's big match. In the event of a draw, Manchester United, tied in points with Sheffield, may spring into the top berth by defeating Norwich City.

A 4 to 0 decision over Aldershot on Monday sent Millwall into the lead in the southern section of the third division, ahead of Watford and Queen's Park Rangers. Millwall should have no trouble disposing of the tail-end Walsall outfit at the weekend. For the match at Mansfield, Nottingham Forest will be without "Dixie" Dean, famous England and Everton centre forward, transferred a few weeks ago. Dean underwent an operation this week for removal of a loose ankle bone.

Hull City, out in front in the northern circuit, is likely to maintain its two-point lead with a match against Southport.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW—Scottish football fans are speculating over Heart of Midlothian's chances of ousting Celtic from league leadership at the week-end. Motherwell, one of the strongest squads, is due at Celtic Park, while Hearts should have a walkover against Morton, already booked for relegation to the second division.

After playing 20 matches without a loss, the Celts cracked at Falkirk last Saturday, losing 3 to 0. In their two preceding fixtures the Glasgow players could only share the points with Ayr United and Third Lanark. On the other hand, Hearts are playing at top form after a bad spell in mid-season. They have captured maximum points in every league match since February 12, when Kilmarnock won 3 to 1.

As matters stand, Celtic has 51 points, one more than its Edinburgh rival. The Glasgow team is at an advantage with a game in hand.

While the championship rests with two famous clubs, the struggle to avoid relegation along with Morton has developed into a tight affair among several teams.

Hamilton Academicals occupy the 19th rung of the league ladder with 27 points, one behind Ayr United. Dundee, Clyde and Queen of the South are bracketed with 29 points.

In a home match tomorrow Hamilton Academicals may improve their position at the expense of Queen of the South, but Clyde and Dundee will have hard battles against Rangers and St. Mirren. Ayr United entertains St. Johnston, ninth ranking team.

Only six second division games are carded for the weekend. (Turn to Page 12, Col. 3)

Victoria Daily Times

Will Meet Seattle Footballers Here Tomorrow

International football will hold the spotlight in Victoria tomorrow afternoon when the Victoria West eleven, seen above, oppose the Seattle All-stars at the Athletic Park, starting at 2.30. T. M. Robb will referee. In the first match of the home-and-home series played in the Sound City-West coast walked off the field with a 3 to 1 decision. The visitors, who are after a berth in the Intercity League along with Victoria and Vancouver eleven, are reported to have a smart aggregation. Two regular and five runs to win the game 6 to 3. Those in the above picture, from left to right, are: Back row, Stan Creed, secretary; Bobby Bell, Harold Sage, Tommy Restall, James Patterson, George Barnes, Charlie Restall and Sam Smith, trainer; front row, Noel Morgan, Jack Okell, Scotty Robinson, Ernie Lorandini and Roy Okell. John Watt, Roy Barnes and Eddie Brown were absent when the picture was taken.

Gym Display At Armories Tonight

The Bay Street Armories this evening will be the scene of the fourth annual mass display of Victoria Recreational Centres. Three-hundred men and women will take part in the two-hour program, which will include a variety of items such as fundamental gymnastics, vaulting, weight-lifting and dancing numbers.

The show will open at 8. Mrs. Joan Horsfield and Alf Batchelor, Victoria instructors, with the aid of leaders have arranged a spectacular show and are looking for a big attendance.

GRADS BATTLE TORONTO FIVE

Dominion Women's Basketball Finals Open in Edmonton on April 23

EDMONTON—Dominion senior women's basketball finals will open here April 23 with Toronto British Consols opposing Edmonton Grads, it was announced here yesterday by J. Percy Page, famous coach of Grads.

Page said dates for the three of five series had been approved by Harold McLachlan of Vancouver, secretary of the Canadian Basketball Association, and officials of the eastern Canada champions. The series will continue on alternate days after April 23.

No definite arrangements have been made, but it is likely three international series will follow the Dominion finals. Likely opponents for the Dominion and world champions are Chicago All Stars, Cleveland Fisher Foods and Wichita Thurston, runner-up in the United States national women's tournament.

Trail After Third Victory Tonight

Smoke Eaters Expect to Capture Western Hockey Title From Port Arthur

SASKATOON—With elimination starting them in the face unless they can come through with a win, Port Arthur Bearcats were determined to force Trail Smoke Eaters to the limit when they clash tonight in the third game of their Western Canada Allan Cup hockey final.

Smoke Eaters took the first game of the three of five series at Edmonton by a 5 to 3 score, coasted to an 8 to 1 victory in the second game at Calgary on Tuesday and need only one more win to grab a place in the Allan Cup final which opens here Tuesday.

The British Columbia champions, who have scalped the Alberta and Saskatchewan winners, arrived here yesterday morning and in the afternoon had a brisk workout under Coach Elmer Piper, whose troops entirely belied his remarks at Calgary about being tired out by steady traveling.

TERRIFIC PACE

Smoke Eaters travelled at a terrific clip in their practice session and looked much fresher than the head of the lakes representatives who appeared weary when they took the ice. "Phat" Wilson, Bearcats' coach,

Money-making Wears Down Manassa Mauler

Jack Dempsey, a Tired Man, Shaking Hands and Protecting Investments

NEW YORK—Jack Dempsey is fast becoming a very rich man. He quit the ring with over $2,000,000 in cash and quick assets, and he's worth a lot more than that now. But he's beginning to look tired around the eyes and his friends are beginning to wonder how long the old mauler can maintain the terrific pace he's setting.

Recently a magazine writer wanted to do a piece entitled "A Day With Jack Dempsey." It took him three days to go the route and then three more days to recover. Jack, resting for a rare moment and talking with the writer, estimated he shakes 300 hands a day, year in and year out. He never gets a chance to work out any more.

He was asked why he didn't cut it out, or at least slow the tempo, and start in having some fun for himself. He admitted he and his wife, the former Hannah Williams, had been out by themselves only one evening in the last two years.

"I can't," he said. "These are tough times and a guy's got to keep punching. I've got to protect my investments. Take this restaurant. We've got $600,000 sunk in it, and more than half of that is mine. We've got to do $1,800 worth of business a day to break even."

did not seem at all worried and promised his team would be out there for 60 minutes tonight. "The Smoke Eaters will know they've been in a game," was all he would say as he hustled his charges off to their hotel.

No changes are anticipated in either lineups and although Ab Cronie and Jimmy Morris are both showing evidences of the game in Calgary, their injuries will not keep them off the ice. The game starts at 7.30 P.M. with Ike Morrison of Ardill, Sask., and Claude Small of Saskatoon, handling the whistles.

Capt. B. Gadsden Heads Rifleman

The Victoria and District Military Rifle Association will open the 1938 season on Good Friday with a shoot at Heals Range, it was decided at the annual meeting held last night in the Bay Street Armories. Plans were also made for contests on Wednesdays and Saturdays throughout the summer.

Captain B. J. Gadsden, veteran marksman, was elected president, while Sgt. J. H. Regan was named vice-president and Sergt. Major W. H. Wood, secretary-treasurer. Those appointed to the executive committee follow: Sergt. G. S. Carr, Lieut. J. E. Hutchings, Sergt. A. E. Ashe and Gunner C. Rasmussen.

JACK DEMPSEY

And the restaurant is only one of Jack's interests. He also has a new bar a block away, and he figures he must spend several hours a day there, shaking money hands. He owns hotels in Los Angeles and Miami, and he has a piece of the Agua Caliente race track. There's a new "Jack Dempsey" whisky, and a "Jack Dempsey" magazine, and he is interested in a producing oil field at Gladewater, Texas.

Toronto Whips Hawks After Rugged Battle

OAKS FINALLY GAIN VICTORY

Defeat Seattle 3 to 0 in Pacific Coast League Game

Increased admission prices to Pacific Coast League Baseball games today drew protest from H. W. Lane, president of the San Diego Padres who announced he was restoring bleacher prices at Lane Field to 40 cents.

Lane said he had requested a telegraphic vote of league directors to have the increased prices reduced. President Phil Bartelme of the Sacramento club announced night playing would be inaugurated at Sacramento Saturday because of small daytime attendance.

On the playing front with three teams tied for first place today, Oakland finally broke into the win column by defeating Seattle 7 to 0 at Oakland last night. San Diego jumped on Gene Lillard for three doubles and a triple to defeat the Angels 4 to 3. Trailing 3 to 1 going into the last of the fifth, the Hollywood Stars got to the Seals' top pitching hand, Sam Gibson, for five hits and five runs to win the game 6 to 3. It was their third straight win over San Francisco.

Portland defeated Sacramento Solons 8 to 7.

Oakland's win was the first in six games played since the season opened last Saturday. Manager Lefty O'Doul, Harley Boss, Seals first baseman, and third baseman Frankie Hawkins were banished from the field in the eighth inning by umpire Cicero Falls. The trio loudly claimed a Star runner had not touched third base on his way home.

Trivine Jeffries' home run was the margin of victory for Portland, while Joe Oregano and Max Marshall hit homers for Sacramento.

Jockey Johnny Adams Establishes Record With Field Day at Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO, Cal.—Jockey Johnny Adams of Iola, Kas., established a California record for consecutive victories yesterday when he was on the saddle of the winning horses in six successive races at Bay Meadows.

Adams started his parade of winners in the third race, with Miss Amie paying $19.60. Danke Schon, with Adams up, paid $10 in the fourth. Rock X, Adams' horse in the fifth, paid $10.40, and Adams was the winning jockey in the sixth, when Dr. Spoon paid $16.

Monsweep, with Adams up, won the feature mile event to pay $16.80, $3.40 and $2.60. Air Chute, the favorite, was second, and Star Singer, of Charles Howard's stable, third. Monsweep won by a head as Adams started his horse behind the pace-setting Air Chute and won out in the stretch.

Air Chute paid $3.20 and $2.40. In the final race of the day, Adams was up on the favorite, Undulate, and recorded his sixth win of the day.

Baseball Gossip

TULSA, Okla.—The New York Yankees, nursing a one-game winning streak, something of a record for them this spring, are on hand to meet the Tulsa Oilers of the Texas League with little of the fanfare that accompanied two previous visits. Whether it is the lack of a Babe Ruth or Joe DiMaggio to pack 'em in, or the fact the Yanks are meeting minor league opposition, the world champions are not drawing. They have not had a full house since opening day at St. Petersburg.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—If Joe Tinker, of Tinkers-to-Evers-to-Chance double play fame, has his way, the Boston Bees will train at Orlando, Fla., after 1940. Tinker, an Orlando real estate, is plugging the fact that the town is building a new ball park. The Bees meet Savannah of the Southwestern League today.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Manager Gabby Street said today outfielder Sammy West will be out of the St. Louis Browns' lineup temporarily because of a small chipped bone in the second finger of his right hand. Street said Mel Mazzera or Ethan Allen would take West's place in centerfield against the Chicago Cubs today.

MOBILE, Ala.—The biggest St. Louis Cardinal squad ever to make a Dixie barnstorming tour was on hand today, a party of 43, including 35 players. The Cards were slated to meet Mobile of the Southeastern League, a St. Louis farm. Lon Warneke was the Cards' pitching choice.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—What to do with First Baseman Rip Collins is a growing problem for Manager Charlie Grimm of Chicago Cubs these days. Phil Cavaretta has been drawing the first base assignments, but since he can play the outfield, too, Grimm must decide whether he is good enough to keep Collins on the bench.

ABILENE, Tex.—With Shortstop Luke Appling injured and Pitcher Monty Stratton relegated to the sidelines, Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox said today he was "just hoping for a spot in the first division." He rated the 1938 pennant field in this order: Yankees, Tigers, Indians, White Sox, Red Sox, Senators, Athletics and Browns.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Pete Fox, Detroit outfielder, is happier than usual this spring. He is one of those players who can't hit his weight before mid-season and finally turns up with a better than .300 average. The cause for Fox's rejoicing is a .327 average for the exhibition season, compared with .331 for last year's regular campaign.

OSHAWA IN PUCK FINAL

Generals Defeat Perth to Reach Last Bracket in Memorial Cup

OTTAWA—Having clipped Perth's Blue Wings and added the eastern Canada Amateur Junior Hockey title to their spoils, Oshawa Generals today turned covetous eyes toward the Memorial Cup. National supremacy will be theirs if they subdue Manitoba's St. Boniface Seals in the Dominion final, first game of which will be played in Toronto Saturday.

Hemmed behind their blue line in a mad, third-period dash by Perth, Generals managed to hold the battling Blue Wings until the final bell here last night when they won 7 to 6, and hurled the Ottawa and district representatives in two straight games to enter the final.

ALLAN CUP GAME TONIGHT

OTTAWA—Quebec Aces and Cornwall Flyers will battle here tonight for the eastern Canada senior hockey title and the right to enter the Allan Cup finals before nearly 10,000 spectators. With the two-of-three series tied at one game each, it promises to be a stirring struggle. Defeated 6 to 3 in the first contest in Montreal, Cornwall looked like a new team here Wednesday when they beat Aces 5 to 2.

WRESTLING

Camden, N.J.—Danno O'Mahoney, 225, Ireland, won from Chief Chewacki, 249, Guthrie, Okla. (Chewacki disqualified). Hartford, Conn.—Rob Russell, 214, Texas, won from Stan Pinto, 210, New Hampshire, two of three falls. Vancouver—Bronko Nagurski, 230, Minneapolis, defeated Jack Forsgren, 220, Vancouver, two straight falls.

Seven Hurt As Squads Rough It

Romnes and Chamberlain Draw Serious Injuries; Hockey Score Is 5 to 1

TORONTO—Survivors of the long National Hockey League playoffs, Toronto's young Maple Leafs and Chicago's veteran Black Hawks dug in today for a protracted Stanley Cup final with their forces already shattered in two struggles.

As the teams took stock of their lineups the count stood even, a game apiece, with Leafs back in the favored position on a 5 to 1 drubbing they handed Hawks last night. It was a Leaf force resembling the confident wreckers of Boston Bruins that swept over the weakened Hawks. Chicago tried vainly to halt Leafs with Paul Goodman, a raw recruit, in goal and their first-string right wing, Mush March, in a Chicago hospital recovering from a groin injury. The odds were all against them taking two straight and Leafs left nothing to chance.

Out of the heavy checking that marked the second clash in the best-of-five series came injuries to both teams. Chicago's Doc Romnes suffered a broken nose in the second period and wasn't used afterwards; Murph Chamberlain of Leafs had a thumb broken and did not play after the first period.

OTHER INJURIES

These were the most serious hurts. Cut by sticks carried high from start to finish, Roger Jenkins, Alex Levinsky and Louis Trudell of Hawks needed stitches to close head wounds. Art Wiebe was struck by the flying puck as he sat on the Hawk bench and an artery over an eye was severed. Toronto's Harvey Jackson suffered a recurrence of a wrist injury that kept him out of the final Boston-Toronto game.

Thrown into a tough spot when League President Frank Calder ruled Alf Moore ineligible to continue his "pinch" goaling for Chicago, Goodman was not quite up to the job in the first major league game of his three-year professional career. But if there were faults for the loss they were not all his, for Leafs were back on top of their game.

Forcing at least two more games, Leafs struck early on Gordon Drillon's goal in the first two minutes and they seldom ceased carrying the offensive against a wilting Hawk defence. The third and fourth games will be played in Chicago, starting Sunday night, with a fifth if necessary in Toronto next Thursday night.

PARSONS SCORES TWO

Despite their man-power Leafs did not run up a commanding lead until Hawks collapsed suddenly midway through the third period. Then in a minute and 25 seconds Drillon fired his second goal and George Parsons got two to settle the issue.

A sell-out crowd of 14,500 saw Drillon pot the first goal with the aid of Bill Thoms and Syl Apps a minute and 42 seconds after the game opened. But they were shocked to silence when Earl Seibert, burly Hawk defence ace, drilled home a short shot off goalie Brian Broda's skate at 8.31. Buzz Ball was in the penalty box at the time.

It was the only goal scored while 13 penalties were being served. Chicago's Bill McKenzie drew the only major, throwing both fists into Harvey Jackson's face with less than two minutes to play. Before that the players threatened open fistclouting a half-dozen times without doing anything about it.

Jackson got what proved to be the winning goal six minutes after the second period opened, on a pass from Bill Thoms.

Hawks fluttered in tight enough formation to stem the Leaf attack from then to midway in the final period. Apps set the play for Drillon's second goal, Goodman kicking Apps' short hard drive in front to the waiting wing. The goal moved Drillon, league-leading scorer, to the top of the playoff sharpshooters with six.

Conference On Camp Closing

The Relief Project Workers' Union is sending out a call to all organizations of citizens to attend a conference Sunday afternoon at 2 at 564 Yates Street to discuss the closing of the projects for single unemployed. It is claimed the shutdown will affect approximately 5,000 men, the majority of whom are youths. The union claims the only alternative for the most of the men will be begging if the government carries out its plan to close the camps.

Canada Sweep Cost Estimated

Amount Spent in Dominion On Grand National Draw Put at $1,100,170

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians spent $1,100,170 on tickets in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake this year on the Grand National, according to an estimate made for the Canadian Press by statisticians.

The figure was reached as an average of four estimates based on the assumption Canadian purchasers had the same probability of drawing prize winners as all other purchasers.

GRAND NATIONAL

Canadians got 125 of the 1,600 consolation prizes, 104 of the 1,264 horses drawn, 48 of the 576 horses starting and $618,650 of the total prize money of $8,057,600.

The statisticians also estimated Canadians spent $603,530 on the Irish Hospital Sweepstake on the Derby last year, when the total world sale of tickets was $10,317,780, indicating a heavy increase in Canadian purchase of Grand National tickets this year over those bought on the Derby in 1937.

Story From Spain Front Discounted

NEW YORK (AP) — The friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade issued a statement Thursday denouncing John G. Honeycombe, who reported in Perpignan, France, the virtual destruction of the Washington and Lincoln Brigades, composed of Americans fighting with the Spanish government forces.

The statement, attributed to Capt. Carl Bradley, executive secretary of the Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, read:

"Honeycombe was never a political commissar, as he claimed, nor was he present when the Lincoln and Washington battalions were merged. These battalions were merged in July, 1937, at the city of Brunete in Spain.

VETERANS ANSWER PLAINS PROFESSOR

SASKATOON (AP) — Two Saskatchewan war veterans' groups were on record today in protest against an alleged statement of Prof. Carlyle A. King that the British Empire was not worth fighting for.

Professor King, member of the English department of the University of Saskatchewan here, was reported to have made the statement at a young Communist League meeting here March 28.

The Moose Jaw branch of the Canadian Legion passed a resolution asking dismissal of Prof. King.

Practical Home Gardening

BY DONALD GRAY

There is nothing mysterious about growing roses as beautiful as those pictured above, but sound rules of planting and care must be followed.

No. 10 in a Series

The growing of roses is the most popular phase of gardening. Amateurs need not think that there are many mysteries connected with the culture of this most beautiful flower. Anyone can grow them if certain rules are followed.

Make the rose bed a separate unit in the garden scheme. Choose a site that has partial shade in the middle of the day. Roses should have full sunlight in the morning.

Prepare the ground by digging a trench two feet deep, as long and wide as desired. At the bottom place four inches of cinders. Take good clay garden soil, mix it with one-third well rotted manure and one-third light garden soil.

After earth has settled, place rose plants 12 to 15 inches apart in staggered rows. Plant each at the same depth it was growing in the nursery. The budded graft knob should be under the surface of the ground.

Plant in the spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground. Cut each plant so that there remains two to four strong canes and three to four eyes to each cane.

After the plant begins to send out leaves in the spring start to look for pests and diseases. Spray the plants once each week with any nationally-known rose spray.

Always keep the ground cultivated. Peat moss or buckwheat hulls may be used on the top of the ground, but always remove this mulch before cultivating.

Fertilize with liquid manure. Cut off all flowers before the petals fall.

An amazingly lopsided deduction. Britain would have been just as much justified in attacking Russia when she turned to Communism and her agents began working throughout the Empire. Japan had better invent weightier expedients than any given to the world to convince anyone of her right to invade China.

The booklet previously mentioned also tells how happy and contented the Chinese in Japan live. That is perhaps true; but reservations, because their lives (the Chinese) would not be worth much if they dared to criticize those responsible for the invasion of their own country. This conclusion must be reached after the arrest recently, in Tokyo, of several hundred Japanese citizens who dared to voice an objection to the war on China. We might also conclude that Japan's propaganda department ranks high when there is need to mislead, perplex and excite.

Japan's desire to put China's house in order may be tinged with fear that Chiang-kai-shek shows promise of making a united nation of China, which in time will become more than a match for the mighty war machine of Nippon. Consequently the best move is to smash China while she is still weak, and by covert influence guide her into the clutches and control of Japan's war lords.

For a number of years Japan enjoyed prosperity at home and success in foreign markets, but when the saturation point was reached and foreign markets were no longer to be found, there followed a slowing down of export trade and manufacturing. Something had to be done to relieve threatening trouble at home. Recourse to the old formula of starting a war may have entered the minds of the war lords. That would give the people something to think about and resuscitate flagging patriotism. Why not put China's house in order, even though she had not asked for assistance? There was land to be had there for excess population, to say nothing of much-needed raw materials. Brush aside any covenants respecting China's integrity, and march on.

It is common knowledge that the progress of one nation is dependent on the goodwill of others. Japan's conduct toward others would indicate that she sets at naught that important condition of international relations, or that in her might she is right, and should not be called to account.

Her commercial and manufacturing setup are remarkably efficient; she is placed high as an imitator and improver, but if she has any inventive genius at all it appears only in manufacturing excuses.

Her era of expansion and progress recalls the circumstances other world powers found themselves in before and after the Great War. With apologies to Thomas Grey, "The paths of prosperity lead but to destruction."

Oak Bay Council Briefs

The Oak Bay Council's works committee will shortly undertake a study of street signs in the municipality with a view to making them more legible. At a meeting yesterday evening, Councillor J. V. Johnson suggested the names of streets should be painted on the vertical edges of sidewalks at corners where they would be more visible to motorists. During debate on the subject several members of the council praised the manner of attaching street names to stop signs practiced in the city of Victoria.

An offer of $240 for a lot on Epworth Street was accepted by the council from Richard O. J. and Maissie M. John.

Yellow lines will be painted on the curb on Newport Avenue between Currie Road and on the streets adjacent to the new rose garden being laid out in Windsor Park to prevent congestion through parked cars, the council decided.

The council gave authority to the building inspector to issue a permit for a house to be built for W. Spier on Tern Place in the Uplands.

Cloves are used in making imitation carnation perfume.

Relief Financing Hangs In Balance

As Province Waits For Ottawa, Cities Insist They Cannot Handle Indigents

Plea of British Columbia municipalities for government assistance in caring for unemployables will remain unanswered for several weeks, or until the provincial government gets its own financial arrangements on relief settled with Ottawa.

After hearing Vancouver's representations yesterday that it could not pay the added cost created by transferring unemployables to the city's ledger, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said no decision could be reached until Premier Pattullo returns from Ottawa, where he is negotiating new relief agreements with the federal government.

Mayor George C. Miller of Vancouver submitted a statement to the government showing that the new relief policy would cost Vancouver $29,348 a month, about $350,000 a year for 1904 unemployable cases on which it would be forced to pay the full bill. In another 1,541 cases, the city is asked to pay 20 per cent, or another $4,700 a month extra.

The argument was advanced for the government that since these people are really indigent cases Vancouver has been saving thousands of dollars monthly by classifying them as relief cases. "We fully understand Vancouver's position," said Mr. Pearson. "It is similar to that of other municipalities."

"The facts of the relief situation are this: Ottawa insisted that relief lists should be segregated into employables and unemployables. The unemployables are indigents, and under our municipal laws the municipal councils are charged with the responsibility of caring for indigents."

"The issue now is whether the government should adopt a new policy of accepting part of this burden. Since we do not know how we stand ourselves on relief matters at the present time an immediate decision cannot be made."

In Ottawa Premier Pattullo is negotiating with federal authorities on the renewal of grants-in-aid to the province, and for assistance on public works schemes this summer. The Ottawa relief grant up to the end of March was $115,000 monthly, and there has been an indication that this may be reduced.

Whether British Columbia will get any federal contributions toward its summer road work, which has provided employment for hundreds of men in the last three years, is also uncertain. Some reports from Ottawa say the federal government will withdraw from joint works schemes and start projects of its own.

Clean-up Week Response Good

The public response that is being accorded Paint-up and Clean-up Week in Victoria is very gratifying, according to Ernest Harris and Norman Foster, president and secretary, respectively, of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, who toured the city Wednesday.

The officials report that there appears to be more paint-up and clean-up activity this year than during previous campaigns. The tour took them through the residential and business sections of the city, and they were pleasantly surprised to see so many citizens doing their share to make Victoria a cleaner and brighter city.

They saw householders tarring roofs, mending tottering fences, trimming ragged hedges and working in gardens. Painters were seen in action in many portions of the town, including the business section. A number of citizens have gone so far as to tidy up lots adjacent to their homes, and a number of phone calls have been received at the Junior Chamber offices from these people asking advice on how to dispose of the refuse they had gathered. They were referred to the City Garbage Department, which is co-operating during the campaign.

Display Posters At Flower Show

At the daffodil show of the Victoria Horticultural Society, which will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Angus Campbell Co.'s store on Government Street, will be displayed a large number of posters which were entered in the competition arranged by the Society for the Preservation of Native Plants of British Columbia.

In addition to the lovely display of daffodils and other spring flowers which have already been entered for the show, these posters will be an additional attraction both from their standpoint of usefulness as well as for the ingenuity and artistry displayed by the school children who made them.

The show will open at noon and at the conclusion there will be an auction of the flowers which have been displayed.

This is the first flower show of the 1938 season and it is expected there will be a large turnout of visitors to see the display.

he would have invitations to lecture at theological conferences on the Pacific Coast. "But I am ready to accept these responsibilities which are coming thick and fast," exclaimed the speaker.

NEW DEANERY

The people of Victoria wanted to be very kind, and one way of showing it was that they were building a new deanery, a modern house, adjoining the Cathedral and the bishop's residence, for the bishop and his wife were anxious to establish a strong personal relationship between Mrs. Spencer Elliott and himself. Around the Cathedral and the residences were lovely gardens, and the city itself had delightful gardens and a harbor which is one of the wonders of the world. To the south, some 60 miles away, stood the snow-clad mountains.

"We shall miss the wonderful mellowness of Southwell Cathedral, but the architecture of Canadian cathedrals is a revelation, and Victoria has a pearl of beautiful bells, which make English people think of the old country. The immediate task is to see that the cathedral services are dignified and worthy of the building and an example throughout western Canada. There could be no finer model for this than the services at the Mansfield Parish Church, especially the musical side. I shall often think of this in the future."

Young Man, Convicted of Car Theft, Seeks Suspended Sentence to Be Sailor

Pending the outcome of efforts to place the accused in the Royal Canadian Navy, subject to the approval by the Attorney-General of a motion for suspended sentence, Judge H. H. Shandley, in County Court today reserved judgment against Frank D. Stewart, convicted on a charge of stealing a car.

The action was requested by W. C. Moresby, K.C., defence counsel, after Judge Shandley had expressed the conviction the accused was guilty of stealing a car owned by J. C. Pullen, Constance Avenue, from in front of the Odd-fellow's Hall on March 23 last.

Neither Oakalla nor the penitentiary was the place for a boy of Stewart's disposition, Mr. Moresby claimed. Mr. Moresby drew Judge Shandley's attention to the clause in the Criminal Code which made it possible for the Attorney-General to grant suspended sentence under certain conditions. The accused, he said, had made efforts to get into the Royal Canadian Navy and had, recently, received a letter of recommendation to the naval authorities from the Chief of Police.

"I will only consent to this action if he gets into the Royal Canadian Navy," Judge Shandley said in reply to Mr. Moresby's request for permission to seek clemency from the Attorney-General. W. B. Lawson, for the prosecution, stated he was prepared to interview the Attorney-General with Mr. Moresby's request.

With the exception of his craze for cars, the accused was not criminally-minded, his counsel contended. Judge Shandley accepted that statement.

Evidence regarding the theft of the car was presented by Constable James Strong, Detective P. W. Richards, J. C. Pullen, Juel Christensen and Constable Peris Atkinson.

E. C. Stewart, brother of the accused, and the accused himself were the only defence witnesses.

Store Building Changes Hands

O. H. Dorman Buys Property at Johnson and Douglas From W. L. Morgan

O. H. Dorman this morning completed the purchase from W. Lloyd Morgan of the lot and two-story building occupied by the Dorman clothing store, on the southwest corner of the intersection of Johnson and Douglas Streets.

The figure for which the property was bought was not revealed.

Mr. Dorman said he was planning a policy of progressive development and modernization, and that he hoped eventually to extend his store to the upper story of the building.

He believes the intersection of Johnson and Douglas is one of the best business prospects in the city, and he said this morning an important development was to be made on one of the other corners this year, but that he could not give details.

He added that a count of pedestrians recently carried out by the city showed the corner on which his store is located to be the third busiest in Victoria.

Mr. Dorman has just completed modernization of the outside of his store, which is now decorated in black vitrolite.

The Dorman clothing store moved to its present location in

BUSY MONDAY FOR COUNCIL

Members of the City Council, sitting as the B.C. Electric franchise committee, are scheduled to give further detailed study to the R. W. Beck report on Victoria's power potentialities on Monday afternoon at 3.

Possibility of action on the report was seen for the meeting, following distribution of copies of the document to all members of the council this week.

The session will follow a finance committee meeting billed for 2.15, when the committee will hear a representative from the school board present another plea for reconsideration of the council's action in turning down the board's request for a grant to restore teachers' salaries.

After the franchise meeting a regular council session has been called for 4 in the afternoon.

Included in the council agenda is a letter from Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, stating an investigation of protests from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council regarding loggers' wages, has revealed all those employed by Kapoor interests to be receiving more than minimum scales.

City Water Makes Goldfish Sick

CLEVELAND — A miniature civil war has torn Cleveland for more than two decades now.

Word of the war, between the city water department on the one hand and irate goldfish owners on the other, leaked out here as William C. Lawrence, water supply superintendent, detailed his tale of woe.

Goldfish owners continue to heckle the department, blaming on the city's water supply ailments suffered by their brilliant-hued aquatic pets.

Mr. Lawrence denied, however, that the city's water supply is responsible, claiming that tests indicate that the chlorine content of less than four parts in ten million is not sufficient to kill goldfish.

The trouble started back in 1911 when calcium hypochlorite, first introduced as a sterilizing agent on Cleveland's raw water supply was blamed with bleaching women's hair and killing goldfish.

"In 1916 for eight months," Lawrence related, "we derived our chlorine electrolytically from salt solution after which we started using chlorine gas and again received complaints about the killing of goldfish."

Now the city uses the ammonia-chlorine water purification process, but the complaints continue to come in nevertheless.

Although he insisted that no fish should be killed by the city's present water supply, he admitted the possibility of a goldfish owner waking up one morning to find his goldfish bleached white. But he knew of no such actual case.

Pilots Were Out When This Plane Dropped In

No one was injured when a U.S. navy-marine plane paid an unexpected and unwelcome call at a Kansas City, Kan., home, with the results pictured above. Unable to pull the ship out of a spin, Capt. Benjamin B. Southworth, and his observer, William H. Gregory, bailed out, landing safely with parachutes. The occupants of the home were badly frightened but unhurt as the plane tore into the roof, then settled into the yard between houses.

British Miners Urge Spain Aid

Welsh Union Head Says Arms Should Be Shipped to Loyalists

LONDON (CP)—Arthur Horner, president of the South Wales Miners' Federation, Thursday demanded the Spanish government be granted the right to buy arms in Great Britain. In a renewed attack on the British government's opposition to Spanish government purchases, Horner pledged 125,000 members to try "to bring about defeat of reaction, beginning with our national government."

Speaking at the annual conference of the federation, Mr. Horner said: "We are disgraced before the world. Britain, once the home of the free, is now the pillar whereon world reaction leans. Victorious Fascism, flushed with blood, may turn on us yet. Only a united people can save us."

The conference adopted a resolution asking an immediate meeting of the National Council of Labor to urge the government to remove its embargo on arms for the Spanish government.

An amendment favoring a strike to enforce this was withdrawn to await national action by the trade union movement as a whole.

War cannot and will not be humanized, its brutalities and lust for blood festivals will cease only when imperialism and its foster mother capitalism has been brought to an end, and this demands intelligent action by its victims, the international working class.

Spiritualist Healing

To the Editor:—In fairness to the Spiritualists and to some people who are not of this religion, but who get the idea of thinking that the Spiritualists get nearly everything in trance, including healing others that way, I wish to explain while some give healings in trance (and that gift is not to be despised), others who have the gift of healing among them diagnose ailments and can tell what part of the body is affected without laying a hand on you.

Also Spiritualism brings hope to the hopeless showing that no effort, for righteousness, is ever wasted, no error irretrievable. It also brings proof of spirit-life and spirit-return.

Houdini, "The Master Magician," openly declared that mediums are imposters, fakes, although in almost the same breath he said he was not arguing against anyone's religion. Mediums have said and psychic investigators suggested that the Man of Power had the silent help and watchful care of departed souls who helped to save him many a peril.

As a lady told a man at a spiritualist meeting, who said he had been waiting for a departed friend to come through for quite a few years and hadn't, that they don't always come because we won't let them come for more reasons than one. One reason she said is because they are of the earth earthy. My faith in Spiritualism is too real to me to doubt it.

Letters to the Editor

FROM AN ANTI-MILITARIST

To the Editor:—By past and present press and radio reports, it would be inclined to believe that the Japanese are barbarians in their waging of war on China.

No one, not even the Japanese government, denies the inhumanity of ruthless air raids on defenseless civilians such as we see going on in China.

This is nothing new, or a peculiarity of the Japanese. This double standard of conduct and ethics which can hate private murder but glorify the mass slaughter of "the enemy" is, as history shows, the characteristics of all imperial powers, and is deliberately backed up by government, press, churches and warmongers. It is also a feature of all military training. That being so, soldiers, sailors and airmen are potential baby-killers and slaughterers of civilians, but these gentlemen are trained not to see or regard their highly skilled profession in that light.

War cannot and will not be humanized, its brutalities and lust for blood festivals will cease only when imperialism and its foster mother capitalism has been brought to an end, and this demands intelligent action by its victims, the international working class.

More About Jupiter's Moons

If Jupiter were a bright-shining sun, it would be the centre of a little solar system of its own. Nine moons go around Jupiter, just as nine main planets go around our sun.

As it happens, Jupiter is a planet, not a sun. We can see it shining in the sky because it reflects light from the sun. The nine moons also reflect sunlight.

Jupiter and four of the nine moons.

As we said yesterday, two of Jupiter's moons are a little larger than the planet Mercury. Two others are about as big as the earth's moon.

There is an amazing fact about Jupiter's moons—they do not all move in the same direction!

Let us suppose we looked down on Jupiter from a place about 20,000,000 miles above its north pole. Then we should see seven moons moving counter-clockwise, that is, opposite to the way a clock's hands move. The other two moons would be seen going clockwise.

What could have brought that to be? It is a hard question to answer, but there are certain facts which may help us.

Seven of Jupiter's moons may have been thrown off from the planet far back in time. Their motion is in the same direction as the planet spins while turning on its axis.

The other two moons are the farthest from the planet, also the smallest of the nine. Each of them has a diameter of about 15 miles. Both are more than 14,000,000 miles distant from Jupiter.

Where did Jupiter get those two little moons? We do not know for certain, but here is a theory:

The little moons may have been "captured" by Jupiter. They may be planetoids, or asteroids, which came within the reach of Jupiter's gravity.

If an exploding planet blew parts of itself (that is, asteroids) toward Jupiter, it is quite possible they were held there. The force of their motion when they were captured may be what kept them moving in a direction opposite to Jupiter's other seven moons.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

Saturday, April 9, 1938

Benefic aspects rule strongly today, according to astrology. Under this sway plans long considered are likely to reach a most promising maturity.

In the morning hours merchants and manufacturers may receive news of important events that will tend to stimulate trade and develop commerce.

Again the advice and direction of older persons will be esteemed. This is an auspicious date for consultations with persons of long experience in business and government affairs.

Women should be exceedingly lucky today. It is a fortunate time to entertain.

Weddings should bring happiness if the ceremony is performed later than noon. There will be many sudden marriages and a marked tendency toward romance as the springtime advances.

There is a promising portent for association with the great and the near-great today. It is a time in which opportunity to progress may come through social contacts.

Despite the pleasant portents there will be a decided extension of malicious propaganda. Prejudices touching racial and religious matters may be prevalent.

Americans are warned that the ideas of Europe and Asia are contagious. Isolation in business or international affairs is impossible, those who read the stars declare.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of unexpected experiences which include surprising journeys. A death may affect business relations.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly keen in mind. Many of these subjects of Aries have unusual talents.

Efram Zimbalist, noted concert violinist, was born on this day 1889. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Leon Blum, French statesman, 1872; Robert Blackburn, congressman, 1870.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am one of a large family, all of whom are married. My husband and I live at the old home and take care of my mother, who is past 80. She is a dear and it is a great happiness for me to do what I can for her. The other children are all in good circumstances. They come to see Mother and tell her about their money, their cars, their fine houses, their trips, and so forth, until I could scream, for they never bring her any little treat or contribute to her support in any way. Worse still, it takes all that my husband and I can make to pay for their entertainment, for they often stay two or three weeks at a time. What can I do about it, for they are literally eating us out of house and home?

WORRIED.

Answer: I think you should write a note to your brothers and sisters telling them that you love to have them come, but that you just simply can't afford to feed them, and that you will appreciate very much if they will make things easier for you by paying a moderate board when they visit Mother. They must be very selfish if they do not see this for themselves and refrain from deadbeating their way.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Have you any statistics to show that marriages made in December and May don't last? I have been reading a book by a certain doctor on eugenics and sex harmony, and he says marriages in these months are rarely successful. I married in December and I am worried about it.

ANXIOUS WIFE.

Answer: It isn't the month you married in that matters, it is what you put into your marriage of love and understanding that counts. Our marriages are what we make them, irrespective of the time of the year.

DOROTHY DIX.

Beulah Seaman Married Here

Winston Edward Cheeseman, a member of the crew of the Panamanian motorship Beulah, who has been in Victoria since his ship sank at Ogden Point a few days after Christmas, was married at 7:30 Wednesday evening to Martha Roskamp Gillam, a native daughter of Victoria.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. de B. Owen at his residence on Suttie Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheeseman at present are living at the bride's home, 39 Ontario Street, and expect shortly to leave for Honolulu to make their home.

The bridegroom's home is in Barbadoes, British West Indies, but he has taken out his United States citizenship papers.

PLANNING FLIGHT

PORT DARWIN, Australia (CP) — H. F. Broadbent, Australian long-distance flier, landed here today from Java to prepare for a new attempt at the Australia-England speed record. He expects to take off April 17.

DOWN THE GANGWAY

Ms. Aorangi, Capt. T. V. Hill, came in from Australia and New Zealand, via Suva and Honolulu, last night, with two-thirds of her passenger accommodation filled. She carried a total of 411 passengers, made up of 167 first class, 178 tourist class and 66 third class. Of these 138 were for Canada and 273 for the United States.

Because of the four-hour stay at Victoria, practically all the passengers disembarked immediately the ship docked and boarded buses and taxis for up town. Not until a few minutes before the ship sailed did the majority return aboard.

More than half the passengers were destined to the United Kingdom. During the next two weeks they will take more than a dozen liners out of Saint John, Montreal and New York.

The Canadian and United States immigration tables in the lounge and smoking-room were lined with passengers all evening and inspectors had one of their busiest sessions in some months.

"We may drop in at Washington and pay our respects to President Roosevelt, but it will be only a courtesy call. We have no intention of discussing trade," said E. Abbott, comptroller-general of customs for Australia, who headed an Australian government delegation to London. Previous reports said the delegation was en route to Washington to draw up a new trade treaty between Australia and the United States.

"We haven't much time on this continent," Mr. Abbott said. "We are booked to sail on the Queen Mary April 27. We are going to Ottawa first. Our main business is in London."

Mr. Abbott refused to be drawn into a discussion on the part Australia is playing in Empire defence.

Two groups of sportsmen, Huskies basketball team from the University of Washington and a team of bowlers from Vancouver arrived by the Aorangi. The Huskies had been to Honolulu where they engaged in a series of games with the University of Hawaii. The bowling team, composed of R. Adam, J. Fleming, E. Gray and A. S. Reid, took part in the British Empire Games at Sydney and stopped over a month in Australia.

"It was a magnificent show and the Australians deserve great praise for the manner they handled every detail," said Sir James Leigh-Wood, chairman of the British Council of the Empire Games, who was aboard the Aorangi with Lady Leigh-Wood. He said he was delighted at the showing made by the athletes from all parts of the Empire, and he paid a particular compliment to the Canadian contingent. Sir James and his wife came ashore here for a few days before resuming their long journey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller, with their nine children, who range in age from two to 17, were aboard the Aorangi en route to their former home in Washington State after ten years in the Hawaiian Islands, where Mr. Miller served as a missionary. Mr. Miller is 70 years of age and his wife 30 years his junior. Several of their children were born in the islands and were openly excited about their first glimpse of North America.

"Yes, it's quite a job traveling on a ship with nine children," Mrs. Miller said, "but the older ones helped with the younger ones and fortunately the weather wasn't rough. We had a lovely time and the children seemed particularly good."

Disembarking here from the Aorangi were Miss F. Rice, who was met by Mrs. E. W. Hamber and Mrs. Mae Rice and taken immediately to Government House; Miss E. M. Sykes of Qu'Appelle Street, Mr. and Mrs. J. Selkirk of Nanaimo, T. W. Tuckey of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thompson of Quamichan Lake, H. de M. Mellin of Woodlawn Crescent, Miss L. H. MacFarlane, who was met by Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, whose guest she will be while in Victoria; C. R. Montgomery of R.R. 4, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. A. Wood, who will visit Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones of Sylvan Lake, and K. C. Arvidson, who was met by Mr. and Mrs. A. Brockhurst, Hollywood Crescent.

On the Aorangi's "who's who" were Mrs. Z. Riddiford, well known in Auckland society; H. B. Perl, managing-director of Louis Dreyfus and Company, large wool merchants of Sydney, with Mrs. Perl and their daughter; J. W. Davidson, retired commissioner of the Queensland Railways, with Mrs. Davidson; Mrs. James Borling, returning to New York after taking a party of American tourists to New Zealand; Dr. G. Anderson, well-known medical man of Wellington, with Mrs. Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wag-

German Spying In Britain Traced

Servant Girls Stated Aiding Plots; Questions in the Commons

By GEORGE HAMBLETON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — German secret police activities in Great Britain are creating uneasiness. Allegations accumulate that the Gestapo is working through the agency of German servant girls employed in the homes of British officers, and through compulsory registration at German consulates of Germans and Austrians resident in Great Britain.

In the House of Commons Thursday Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, faced a series of questions. He was asked about a manufacturing firm, alleged to be a centre for German propaganda. He was asked whether the refusal to allow a German general to land at Dover was because of his connection with a Nazi finance organization.

To both questions Sir Samuel replied the matters were still under investigation.

"Are there not far more dangerous organizations in this country financed by Russia?" demanded Vice-Admiral Ernest Taylor, Conservative.

Was it not true, questioned Viscountess Astor, Conservative, that there would not be anything heard of Fascism if it had not been for Communism?
